

Strictly for the Birds

Mrs. Jacques (Molly) Jost, of 321 Bates, assistant manager and record manager of the Doubleday store on Pierce, peeped from atop a ladder into the center of a letter on the store front where a sparrow family—which now includes baby sparrows—chose to build its home. The nest was discovered when the letters were being taken down for cleaning. This letter, the small "d" in Doubleday, was not disturbed.

The name, United States of America, originated when it was written into the Declaration of Independence.
