

If Providence did not intend that man should wear smiles often than he does, would man have been endowed with a face capable of conforming to smiles? However, the face is controlled by thought... and does not Divinity also bestow the cheerful thought?

Dads Are Escorts

ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING social events on the program for graduating seniors at Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., is the Commencement Ball. In a springtime setting depicting campus scenes, seniors and their escorts dance to the music of Dick Renne's orchestra. Traditionally, the fathers of the students are favored escorts for the occasion. In the ballroom of the Student Activity Center at the college with Judy Granger is her father Joseph S. Granger of 6730 Glenway, Birmingham.

Birmingham Tennis Club is Family Group

Birmingham Tennis club is planning for its opening day, Sunday, June 9, at Kingswood school courts. The club is organized so that the entire family can participate in the sport.

On Wednesday, which is ladies' day, when the mamas get together, it is also a day out for the kiddies. They come along to the courts, play on the lawns or under the large shade trees, have picnics or munch on goodies available at the stands.

ROUND robins are planned so everyone gets an opportunity to play regardless of ability, which ranks from amateurs to those who chalk up a pretty good game.

During the year various family picnics are planned as well as two dinner dances—opening and closing events. There are also inter-club tournaments, and weekend family "doings."

LAST week the club met and set up two committees for the season. Leon Bramley is chairman of the membership committee with the assistance of Mrs. Scott H. Hayes, Mrs. Wolf Frankl, Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence, and Mrs. Charles Lynch. Russell Frantz, Mrs. Thompson and Jack Bero, all of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

HEADING the social committee will be Mrs. Fred Cowin of Half Moon road. Her helpers are Mrs. Robert Faught, Mrs. S. A. Walker, Mrs. Thomas Allen, Mrs. Albert Holmes and Mrs. H. P. Pickard.

Mrs. Albert Holmes of Shallowbrook drive, Bloomfield Hills, commented that "one of the nicest things about joining the club is that courts are always available"—there are five.

No Director for Judy

A frantic double telephone call was received the past week by William Merrill of Will-O-Way Playhouse. Dave Neelander, owner of the Riviera theatre was on the phone and, his sons Joe and Jim on the extension. Judy Garland had just arrived in town, various other acts were scheduled to train in at 8 a.m. the next morning, and they had no director to pull the show together, no director at all in fact. Would Bill come... in the name of friendship... and all that, and do it for them.

Bill consulted his cast rehearsing for the opening of "Mrs. McThing"; they assured him they could get along for a couple of days. Bill went back to the phone and offered his couple of days, but the Neelanders were afraid it would take a good deal more than that as well as a director on the spot during the run of the show.

"I'm sorry," Bill had to say, "not to come and direct around Judy Garland, but I'm opening too, you know."

Fashionable Swim Togs

With swimming pools officially open at the Country clubs... utmost on the minds of teenagers and adults alike... are swim suits. "What color shall I choose, will it be plain, striped or checked—one or two piece—strapless, skirtless or—what?"

These are the questions being asked and fashion shows are helping to solve the problem. Mrs. Theodore Chick, Social chairman of the year is responsible for the one coming up at Birmingham Country club Wednesday, June 12 at noon. Country club casuals by Suzette will be shown along with the swim togs.

ONE of the newest swim suits this season will be a sublimely shaped knit worn in large black and white checks modeled by Mrs. James H. Chenet of Hillcrest drive, Birmingham.

All the lush, inhibited colors of the tropics interpreted in hand screened Hawaiian prints on fine cotton will be seen on Mrs. Charles Granger, of Riverside drive. Styled to bring you summer long delight, to complement your vacation plans, the suit comes with a matching beach coat.

AN Italian straw hat and bag in red, white and blue is just the thing to complement any beach wear. Mrs. John Larkins of Amberly road, Birmingham, will wear this with a turquoise suit fashioned with an overskirt.

Something still different is an apricot strapless, yet fashioned with tie backs available for a halter neckline. It is made along princess lines, accented with tiny black buttons... and will surely complement Mrs. William Evans' tan which she acquired while vacationing in Mexico.

Still other club member models will include Mrs. John Malpel, Mrs. Leonard Jaross, Mrs. William H. Brewer, Mrs. C. B. Allen, Jr., Mrs. C. J. Casey, Mrs. William J. Taylor and Mrs. John Larkner. It was there the girls expressed the hope that as those trees grow—so may their lives in service to their community, commented Mrs. Schetzky.
