that synthetic something-or-other

With all the hullabaloo in the press, synthetic fabrics don't seem to have accomplished the revolution they set out to. . . clothes still get dirty, they still wear out, they still have to be bought—and paid for! And nobody's decided whether synthetic skirts should go higher than old-fashioned skirts.

Synthetics are wonderful—we won't risk getting into a debate with DuPont on that subject. Besides, we sell plenty of synthetic products. But we just, personally, prefer the plain, sturdy old cottons. It's our opinion—see us—that maybe man can out-ballyhoo nature, but so far he hasn't out-sold her!

That's why so many of our EXCELLO shirts are cottons. But what cottons! Crisp cotton broadcloths, soft, comfortable oxford cloths, lightweight cotton batistes. And when you get these world's finest cottons tailored in the famed EXCELLO "tailored like a jacket" manner—man, you really have a shirt! They're hand-cut to fit smoothly in the front and around the collar, with plenty of fullness in the back for ease of action. The yoke is cut on an arc to follow the natural curves of the shoulder. EXCELLO's exclusive bell-front lap-over cut keeps shirt tails from riding up. And each EXCELLO shirt is carefully single-needle tailored, lock-stitched throughout, features large ocean pearl buttons.

We're happy with nature's (and EXCELLO's) answer to the problem of good looks and long wear—finest cottons, perfectly tailored.

For a new experience in shirt comfort and fit, we invite you to try on an EXCELLO shirt today!
