Alexander Neads Hosts at Party

SOUTH BERKSHIRES — In keeping with the St. Patrick's day tradition, the Alexander Neads recreation room on Leemore drive was gaily decorated with green and white streamers Saturday evening. The occasion was a dinner-dance party for officers, committee chairmen and members of committees of the South Berkshires home association.

The festivities were enlivened during the cocktail hour with impromptu barber shop harmony renditions of old favorites and well-known Irish tunes.

Tables were colorfully decorated with huge shamrocks with green and white ruffled bases, flanked with green and white tapes shedding a soft glow on the shamrock sprinkled table cloths.

An arrangement of pink, white and pale green carnations centered buffet table spread with delicacies consisting of fried chicken, beef tenderloin, baked ham, stuffed cabbage, relishes and variety of salads and desserts.

Present were the Marvin Clines, John Long, Leroy Canales, Alexander Neads, Fred Mosdale, Douglas Woods, Charles Youngs, Patrick Weisler, Anthony Foley, Maurice Weiners, Upton Brannacks and Al Lights.

Also, the Philip Diesels, Paul McGarity, John Denmans, Irvin Meloches, Alton Cummings, Dallas Sprinkles, Dave Weisler, Al Zimanskis and Donald Rader.

Valley Woods Social Briefs

The Charles Gregorays of Smallwood drive, arriving home Sunday after a month's stay in Florida agreed — Florida can have its sun — home and the air of Spring is best. The Gregorays' tourist's stay is making Miami and St. Petersburg their temporary home. Their itinerary was made up from all the "places and sights to see," which friends had recommended. Mile after mile of orange groves, and the Cypress Gardens was impressive, the Gregorays said.

The Fox tribe of the Indian Guides had their council meeting at the Len Nelson tepee on Westbourne road. All little and big braves are working on tom-toms (made from nail legs). Little White Rock (Kenny Kittle) served punch and brownies.

Mrs. William Harris was hostess at coffee to the nominating committee for the Valley Woods Women's association. The committee presented at the board meeting at Mrs. Fred Nicholson's home was chairman, Mrs. Charles Bentley; co-chairman, Mrs. Elmer Weiss; recording and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Daniel Adams; and treasurer, Mrs. Walter Nyland.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Andrus of Eastlady road recently returned from an extended weekend. The Andrus' few down to Indiana, where they are combining business and pleasure. Mary spent the time with old school friends Mr. and Mrs. Frank Verelle.

Proving that the coming generation of homemakers read home magazines, Debbie Fisher spied birthday cake decorations in one and nothing would do but for mother to "create" a farm scene atop her eighth birthday cake last week.

Joining in the fun of games were Susie Smith, Cheryl Pappert, Sherry and Lynn Campbell, Craig Bond, Andrea and Steffi Flajole. Debbie and her sisters, Elvina are looking forward to summer and the play ground equipment promised by mother and daddy for their birthdays.

The Fisher houseguests were grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bostercell of Kalamazoo.

Introducing the Ray E. Wheelers of Fochae formerly of Birmingham, Mr. Wheeler is manager of Hartford Fire Insurance Co. The Wheelers enjoy boating and fishing.

Seeking an advance taste of spring, the Bert's of Bellvine trail combined business and fun by motoring to Tennessee for a week's stay.

If you watch those stunts on Ladies Day in your TV, you know it's easier said than done. This fact was proven to Mrs. William McClellan, Mrs. Walter Nyland and Mrs. Kenneth Kittle when they joined the Berkshires WNFGA at the television station. The group enjoyed brunch at Mrs. Kittle's home before going down.

In addition to helping neighbors become better acquainted, the committee hopes to gather expression of interest in hobbies, crafts or social occupations which the women may wish to enjoy together. An interest questionnaire was given out at the tea which guests filled out, to help the committee organize
