

Earthquake Encountered In Caribbean

The Thomas H. Wagner family of Suffield road returned recently from a Caribbean cruise. They en-planned for Florida late last month, staying in Miami for several days before boarding the S. S. Evangeling for Port Antonio, Jamaica.

While docked at Kingston early one evening, they felt the tremors of an earthquake in the town and mountains around them. All passengers that weren't on board were soon carrying up the gangplank. Lights were out in Kingston for most of the evening and later reports told of several deaths in the mountain area.

Also included in their trip were stops at Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, and St. Thomas,

Spring Vacation

Susan S. Lovell, daughter of the Robert Lovells of Clifton road, Bloomfield Village, and Maryjane Morrell, daughter of the Sydney Morrells of Bingham road Birmingham, will begin spring vacation tomorrow from Centenary College for Women, Hackettstown, N. J. They are scheduled to return to the campus April 9.

Virgin Islands. After returning to Florida, they visited at Ft. Lauderdale where they went deep sea fishing with former Grosse Pointers, the A. C. Stuarts.

The Wagners' children, Dorothy Ann and Tim, students at Quanton school, also included homework in their schedule. They had much to report to their classmates, on the interesting historical spots they saw, such as the tree where Columbus tied his ship in the Dominican Republic, and on tours through a sugar refinery and tortoise and mahogany factories.

Enjoying a skiing holiday at Cannon Mountain, Franconia, New Hampshire, are Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Gleisner of 1760 Taunton, Birmingham.
