

Less Back Aches

Women are discovering that they have fewer back aches when they walk on flooring which has resilience and "give" to their weight.

If they walk all day on concrete, a jarring hits their spine every time they step. That is why women are expressing a preference for wood flooring in their homes.

Cabinet to Store Tricky Canned Food

Do you feel like a halfback fumbling for the football every time you reach for a canned vegetable? One kitchen designer has come up with a wonderful solution to the problem. A cabinet was especially designed with sloping shelves for canned goods.

Cans can be laid in rows on their sides with labels in view and then, when you pull another roll forward into its place, a bump rack helps to hold the cans in place. No more shuffling to see what's in back of the foremost can.

here's everything you need for . . .
