PTA Installs
New Officers

BEVERLYS—At the PTA meeting of Beverly school last Tuesday, the following officers were installed for the coming year: president, Dr. Harold Fairbanks; father vice president, Mr. Robert R. Wilson; mother vice president, Mrs. Donald Upward; teacher vice president, Miss Joyce Hood; Mrs. Margaret Kinch; recording secretary, Mrs. Herbert Shilton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. A. Risk; and treasurer, Mr. Warren King. Mr. King, retiring president, thanked his board, committee chairmen and officers, and wished the new officers good luck.

The meeting was highlighted by a speech by Rabbi Morris Adler who spoke on the subject "Probation of youth and what we, as parents, must do about it." Rabbi Adler is a nationwide youth authority and head of Shaare Zedek school and synagogue, Detroit. He is also a member of the new IAW-GIO review board and is on the governor's commission on fair election practices. He is vice president of the community health association and Jewish Community council.

Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Whittlesey of Hillcrest recently had at their home guests Mr. Whittlesey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Whittlesey, of Springfield, Mass. William G. O'Rourke of Hillcrest invited a group of neighbors for tea last Monday in honor of Mrs. Whittlesey, Sr.

Prior to the Greenfield-Beverly improvement dances at Birmingham country club Friday night there will be some cocktail parties among which will be one held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Smith on Arlington for some of the neighbors on that street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Edgerley of Toronto, Canada, were recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Spencer of Beechwood.

Bobby Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Jensen of Beechwood, celebrated his fifth birthday May 15 by inviting some of his friends to a party. Guests were Fred Compton, Nancy Wind, Don Staveley, Lynn Bowden, Timmy and Jeri Dey and Gayle and Mark Zulauf.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Olds of Buckingham road served a buffet supper to 30 members of the east and backstage crew after the presentation of "The Flattering Word" by George Kelly in the fellowship hall of the First Methodist church Friday and Saturday evening.

Formed in January, this dramatic group, the Chancel Players, have presented three plays, "Pinders Keepers" by George Kelly, "Dark Wind" by Evelyn Neuenburg and "The Flattering Word." Mrs. Olds was director for the three plays. Mrs. Martin A. Sanninen of Birchwood had the supporting roll in "Dark Wind" and Jack Stevenson of Kirkshire was in charge of lighting. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matters of Lansing attended the show and party as guests of the Olds.

Following tradition, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Gulmet, Riverside drive, held a cocktail party for outgoing directors and officers of the Beverly Hills improvement association prior to the annual dinner held last Thursday at the community house. New officers are Don Dietrich, president; Hugh Elertson, secretary; Harold Fairbank, vice president; Leo Linsenmeyer and Peter Decker, directors; and O. C. Lillie, chairman of the maintenance committee.
