

Repeat Wedding Vows In Episcopal Church

Christ Episcopal church in Detroit was the scene Friday evening of the wedding of Cynthia Hadley and Philip F. Savage. The Rev. William B. Sperry performed the candle-light ceremony.

The newlyweds greeted 250 guests immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother. Cynthia is the daughter of Mrs. Sylvester C. Hadley of Detroit and the late Mr. Hadley. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Savage of Birmingham are parents of the groom.

CYNTHIA'S silk taffeta bridal gown featured an overlay of lace on the scoop necked, long sleeved bodice. The skirt was accented with two panels of lace extending into a chapel train. A pearl traditional lace cap held in place her full length veil. She carried a white bouquet of flowers.

Joan Hadley was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sylvia Hadley, sister of the bride, Carol Beyerslag of Grosse Pointe Woods, Cynthia Keveler of Detroit, Mrs. Orrin Gulley and Nancy Savage, both of Birmingham.

The attendants were dressed in pleated pink chiffon gowns, fashioned with rose colored cummerbunds and floating back panels. Small face veils were attached to their pink velvet headbands and they carried a basket of pink carnations, irises and white stephanotis.

GEORGE B. Cottin III of Breckinridge, Penn. was best man. Ushers were Charles A. Baker Jr., of St. Clair Shores, John K. Schwartz of Bloomfield township, Robert Todd Fall of Galeburg, Ill., George Cummings of Redford and John Chantler of Birmingham.

Mrs. Hadley wore a pale mauve crepe full length gown with headband to match and a white orchid. The groom's mother wore a pale blue gown with a white orchid.

Following the reception, the couple left for a motor trip to the southwest. For traveling, Cynthia wore a navy linen weave silk dress with a beige tweed fitted jacket and red accessories. When they return, they will make their home in Indian Village, Detroit.
