

Band, Orchestras, To Strike Up the Music School Musicians Set Concerts

We shall have music wherever we go—whether it's to Birmingham high school, Barnum junior high school, or Derby junior high school. Birmingham high school's highly-rated 50-member band will strike a march to start it all tonight at 8:15 p.m. at the high school gymnasium.

More music will fill the schools next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Barnum auditorium, when the Barnum school band and orchestra present their annual spring concert.

Derby Junior high school's band and orchestra will share the spotlight next Thursday in the school's first concert, at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

BIRMINGHAM HIGH school's musicians, under direction of Arnold W. Berndt, have programmed the music of Dvorak, Rachmaninoff, Haydn's "Toy symphony," plus ballet music by Delibes.

Drum major is Beverly Selters.

BARNUM JUNIOR high school's 41-member orchestra under direction of Robert Kutecher will accompany a flute solo by Merry Richardson.

The 63-member band under Burton Bronson will take over the second half of Wednesday program, during which Merry Richardson and Margaret Chamberlain will play a flute duet.

DERBY JUNIOR high school's 34-piece orchestra will play Offenbach's "Ballet Parfais," and the varied program includes march music by the 7-piece band. Both are directed by Harold Jones.

Program highlights include solos by Charles Fierz and Dan Rodgers, and a brass sextet made up of Phil Sattorhwaite, Al Baumann, Katy Weinrick, Gordon Robby, Duane Dunham, and Dan Rodgers.

Ticket sale will continue a fund to help finance future activities.
