

Margery Beddow Guest of Parry's

CRANBROOK VILLAGE—Miss Margery Beddow, a daughter of Russell Parry of 22285 Rock Creek, was a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Parry while in town with the Ballet Russe. Miss Beddow is a native Detroit and graduated from Redford high school.

She started her ballet career by appearing in "High Button Shoes" and "Two on the Isle" on Broadway. She also had one of the leads in "Oklahoma" when the company toured.

Miss Beddow has taken special training in ballet arts in Carnegie hall, and was with the Metropolitan Opera Ballet for a year before appearing with the Ballet Russe.

This is Miss Beddow's fourth season with the Ballet Russe and has appeared on radio programs on TV for the Metropolitan Opera Ballet.

MISS BEDDOW is one of five girl soloists with the Ballet this season.

Mrs. Parry is also very interested in the Ballet and is currently teaching a class in creative dancing at Washington school in Pleasant Ridge.

Cambridge Village Social Briefs

A very pleasant three weeks was spent by Mrs. Frances Barrett of Spring Arbor drive, and her father, Walter J. Mulligan, touring the northwest section of the country and spending several days in California.

Going by way of the Great Northern Vista Dome they traveled across the upper northwest to Seattle, then on to Portland, Ore. to visit relatives. They stopped in San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Mission Beach.

From there they flew to Las Vegas for the weekend. A side trip was made to Phoenix, Ariz., and the Grand Canyon, before they started for home.

Kim Paxton celebrated his third birthday Nov. 7. Joining in the fun were Susan Dinsley, Allison and Kathy Ash, Billy and Susan Fisher, Tommy Virgin, Debbie Smith, sister, Janny, 5, and brother, Tom, 8.

A guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Parke of Lexington parkway is Parke's mother, Mrs. Margaret Parke from Warren, Ohio. Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Darling, will drive her back to Ohio.

Xmas Workshop Group Scheduled

LATHRUP—The Lathrup Women's club will hold a Christmas workshop in the House-in-the-Woods Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Members will make gift items for the Christmas bazaar and workshop in the House-in-the-Woods Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Richard Cogger and Mrs. Bernard Yost need portable sewing machines and workers for the business end of scissors, needles and hammers. The workers will construct aprons, bean bags, carpeted doll beds, candle boards, Christmas tree skirts, decorated Christmas trees, felt corsages and pin cushions. Advance orders for the gift items will be taken.

Mrs. Robert Bryant is chairman of the workshop.

Frank Jeffreys Host Reception

LATHRUP—Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffreys were guests of honor at a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeffreys at the Lee Plaza hotel Nov. 6. Among the Lathrup guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Vostervich, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jordano and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Palmer.

Marked Oct. 5 in the Highlands Presbyterian church in Daytona Beach, Fla., the couple will make their home with the senior Jeffreys until they decide on Michigan or Florida for a permanent residence.

Scouts Present Gifts to Club

LATHRUP—Because the Women's club has been so generous to the girl scouts, the girls of troop 195 will make and donate bookmarks, cases for glasses and corsages for the Christmas Fair.

Troop No. 640 are making corsages for Mrs. Clarence DeGroat, membership chairman, to be used for the new members of the club. Mrs. Thurston and Mrs. Frederick Goudie of Troop No. 610 brought corsages to Mrs. Elmer Craig and Mrs. DeGroat to present to the new members.

Guests Awarded Costume Prizes

CANTERBURY GARDENS—Over 200 guests attended the Halloween party at the James McKenzie home on Red Leaf lane, Oct. 30. Games such as "Beat the Clock" were played as well as the traditional bobbing for apples.

First prize for the best lady's costume went to Mrs. Robert Leon, who came dressed as a red devil. The best man's costume was for Little Lord Fauntleroy, alias Donald Burnett. The couple who won the pumpkin carving contest were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tiffin. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kwiecinski won praise as the "Saint and Sinner".

Andersons Return From Hawaii Trip

LATHRUP—The Richard Andersons of San Quentin recently returned from an 18-day trip to Hawaii. Along with Mr. and Mrs. John Paulus of Rainbow drive, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary while there, they flew to Los Angeles and then to the islands.

They were there during Aloha week, a very festive time on the islands, and dressed in native costumes and ate their meals of roast pig and poi on money pool dishes. The Andersons also attended a native ball where a king and queen of the islands was chosen.
