

Jewelry Designed For All Children

If that youngster has musical talent, he might like this combo set, including both a calypso and bongo drum, which can be purchased for $4.98 at Suburban Sales, Telegraph near Maple.

Wishes will come true Christmas morning when youngsters of every age receive gifts of jewelry, distinctively designed to look "just like Mom or Dad's".

The younger set's grown-up tastes and their keen appreciation of beautiful items such as bracelets, tie clasps, necklaces and cuff links has brought about a new era in jewelry with designs made especially for them.

Precious gifts for the young lady of the family appear in a wide variety of flattering styles and reasonable prices.

SMART WATCHES. Lovely rings, delicate pearl necklaces, sentimental lockets and trussard bracelets are but a few items she is sure to treasure.

Handsome tie clasps, a large range of belt buckles, durable knives, accurate watches and colorful cuff links indicate the vast array of presents waiting for the young man.

The highhair brigade has not been forgotten. Beautiful silver cups, unbreakable porringer sets, musical cups, tiny fork and spoon sets, attractive brush and comb sets and fascinating teething rings with jingling silver bells will captivate the fancy of the smallest tot.

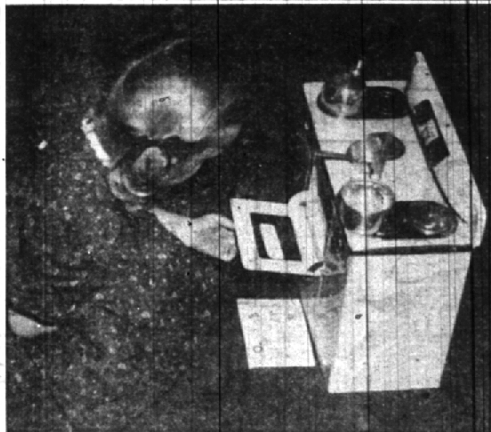

Christmas Toys Battery-Powered

It may be the atomic age for patents, but it's the power age for youngsters and their toys.

This year, a majority of toys found under Christmas trees will have working parts powered by batteries to give the future generation a glimpse into how the real item functions.

TOYS FOR tomorrow's home-maker range from washing machines and mixers to a "Dancing Dan" which operates through vibrations in a person's voice.

For boys there are automobiles with see-through bodies showing all parts in action, boats powered by gasoline, realistic train sets and lathes and drills with rubber ends to prevent injury.

Sky Sweeper Set

"Sky Sweeper" set—a complete guided missile anti-aircraft unit, fully operable—projects its own targets which are "shot down" from the mobile launching platform. As modern as our national defense program is this new toy for giving this Christmas.

No mother will have to slave all day over a hot stove alone if her daughter has one of these Little Lady electric stoves. Janet peeks into the oven to find out what's cooking. The stove, complete with pots and pans, sells for $12.95 at Bodine's on N. Woodward.
