

Books in Demand By Youngsters

Parents wanting some tips on what books to give their children for Christmas might find some help in knowing which books were most in demand by the youngsters at the Baldwin Public Library's recent Book Week Fair.

Each child was given a chance to reserve one of the books on display free of charge. Over 150 new books for children and teen-agers were in the display and 444 reserves were taken.

Top favorite was Betty Cavanaugh's Angel On Skis for teen-agers. Two books were second place favorites; one was Dr. Seuss's new offering, How the Grinch Stole Christmas, for the young child, and Beverly Cleary's Henry and the Paper Route for the "middle-aged" child.

NON-FICTION favorites in first place seem to be Walt Disney's Secrets of Life and C. B. Colby's Firing Line.

Santa Went To Art School

Art students ready a display of their work suitable for Christmas gifts for their annual Christmas sale, opening Friday at Cranbrook Academy of Art. From left are Jane Aistrop, James L. Brewer, Jr., and Nancy Wong, checking over the small sculptures, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and other items to be sold along with silk-screened

Christmas cards. Friday hours are 8 to 10 p.m. in the Academy galleries. It will also be open from 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, and the following weekend, Dec. 7 and 8, at the same hours. On display in the upper galleries will be sculpture and tapestries designed by Wallace Walker, design department student.

School's Out!
