Jazz Concert Features
All Star Company

Teddy Wilson's concert jazz will be presented at the Royal Oak Donders high school Saturday at 7:15 p.m. under the auspices of the South Oakland Community Concert Association. The musical public will be treated to a concert program of jazz, performed by an all-star company led by one of the jazz pianists of all time.

TEDDY WILSON

Teddy Wilson, originator of the piano style and one of the pioneers of the swing era, is the cornerstone of the group. Joining him and forming a close-knit ensemble are singing star, Joya Sherrill; Buck Clayton, trumpet; Sam Most, woodwind; Arvell Shaw, bass; Sonny Truitt, trombone; and Bert Dahlander, drummer.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST to concert-goers will be the very first performance of a major new opus from the pen of Duke Ellington. Mr. Ellington has composed and arranged exclusively for Teddy Wilson's concert jazz and extended "love-poem" scored for instrumental sextet and set in classical movements.

Teddy Wilson's career has won him recognition as one of the "Giants of Jazz" among pianists. Spiraling upward ever since his early days with the Louis Armstrong and Benny Carter bands in the thirties, it has associated him with most of the top jazz figures at one time or another.

THE LONGEST and most noteworthy association was with Benny

Goodman, who organized his trio with Wilson and Gene Krupa in 1935. Teddy taught jazz improvisation at the Juilliard school of music for seven years.

Recent seasons have found him on concert tours of Scandinavia and the British Isles, starring on a weekly CBS jazz program, and on a Hollywood visit for the shooting of the universal motion picture "The Benny Goodman Story," in which he plays himself.

Joya Sherrill brings to the program a feminine touch and some wondrous jazz vocalizing. Buck Clayton is one of the best loved trumpet stylists and most familiar figure in the world of jazz. He earned his fame in the Count Basie band where he perfected his highly individual style.

SAM MOST holds down the woodwind slot in the ensemble, playing alto-sax, clarinet and flute. The prize bassist, Arvell Shaw, is an alumnus of the Louis Armstrong band and has worked with Teddy Wilson on past recording dates.

Sonny Truitt, is another versatile talent who enlivens the stage. This rising young trombonist also knows his way around the piano keyboard and the intricacies of band arranging. Completing the roster is Bert Dahlander, foremost Swedish drummer and acknowledged leading exponent of jazz music in his country.

Student Selected As Cast Member
