

Parents, Children Partake In "Court of Halloween"

Halloween night was celebrated in Eastover school's multipurpose room. The evening's fun was centered around the "Court of Halloween", with both parents and children participating.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sadler and children were chosen "King and Queen." Their costumes were of identical Indian attire. Lucinda Heaton, dressed as a witch was chosen as the "Little Princess." The "Little Prince" was Jeffrey Smith, dressed as the "green giant" as seen on the label of the pea product.

Mike Kalou was chosen as the "Crown Prince" for his winsome scarecrow costume. Nancy Kestarian portrayed Raggedy Ann and was selected to reign as the "Crown Princess." The two court jesters were Mary Mahmeister, an old-fashioned girl, and Bob Streassen-Reuter, a comic.

The court ascended to their awaiting thrones and were crowned in a short ceremony. Everyone joined in the Halloween parade that took them through the building to the sixth grade room that was decorated as a fun house. A tape recorder sent chills running through the spines of all as weird Halloween noises came forth.

"Cookie," the clown of television and radio, entertained. Prizes were awarded to all throughout the evening.

Charing Cross Estates began their Halloween evening of fun at the Haunted Hollow, known the rest of the year as the pump house lot, at 6 p.m. The goblins, witches, skeletons, black cats, and what have you, paraded through the subdivision and ended up at the Hadington drive residence of the Fred Rosses where they were served donuts and cider.

The most unusual costume prizes were awarded to Claire Pisanil, Peg Hehen, Paul Mimura, Scott Hehen, Don Clark, Bill Schreffler. After the prizes were distributed the children went on their way for "Trick or Treat."

Helping to make the evening a memorable one were committee members Mrs. Gene Quackenbush, Mrs. Robert Erickson, Mrs. John Masehat, Mrs. Fred Koss, Mrs. Lloyd Dennison and Mrs. A. Robert Borden.

John Bodette of Lanegan drive has just returned home after two busy weeks abroad. His first stop was London, England, where he viewed the Royal Grenadiers, the Queen's regiment, as they went through the changing of the guard.
