With mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Pollard of Lathrup, in the front seat, the three boys (from left), Terry, Dennis and Tim, on the back seat, May Beth and Diana fit perfectly into the little extra drop seats making the 1924 Pierce Arrow ideal for family jaunts. Besides just taking the antique car out for a "spin" they like to enter it in old car meets.

Restored Maroon Touring Model Rates Shelter in Pollard Garage

By DOROTHY C. ZATELL

LATHRUP—When your new 1957 model is left to stand in the driveway, and you put your 1924 Pierce Arrow in its place in the garage, you are an antique car devotee.

That's what happened when Charles E. Pollard of 2753 Rockham brought home the restored maroon touring model 33.

When the Pollard twins, Terry and Tim, graduated from Catholic Central last June, they borrowed the Pierce Arrow to drive their dates to the prom at Plum Hollow Golf club.

The boys along with younger brother, Dennis, love to remove the plastic cover from the old car every Sunday afternoon. They dust it carefully and take it out for a "spin."

With Mr. and Mrs. Pollard in the front seat, the three boys on the back seat, Mary Beth and Diana fit nicely into the extra little drop seats making the car perfect for the family.

TIM AND TERRY delight in entering the old car in meets held around the state. This year they drove it at Lansing and at Greenfield Village.

The Pierce Arrow automobile was built in Buffalo from 1904 to 1928. A very reliable car, it won several Glidden reliability tours starting in 1905. The Pierce Arrow was custom built up to 1925 when a production model was introduced along with the custom line.

pletely re-manufactured and is now in original condition.

Although the car has a top and side curtains, Mr. Pollard likes to think of it as a convertible and only uses the extra equipment in case of emergency.

Mrs. Pollard is thinking that an old style 1924 maroon coat will have to be found if she is to travel in the car in cooler weather.

THE POLLARDS participated in the annual Glidden tour at French Lick, Ind., last year. They have taken conducted tours in Michigan and this year attended the Fall Foliage tour conducted by the Ohio chapter which took them through central Ohio to Marietta.

In all their touring the Pollards have never experienced any mechanical trouble. They tell about their first trip to French Lick when they ran out of gas on a dark road and had to send a 1913 Chalmers, driven by Mr. Pollard's brother, Barney Pollard, ahead for gas, only to remember that the Pierce-Arrow is equipped with an emergency gas tank that could be switched over.

Beauty and Dignity
—Part Of The Funeral

Nothing relieves the sorrow of the passing of a loved one like the beauty and true dignity of the last rites. In leaving life on this earth, the beauty of the floral tributes and the funeral service provide a memory always cherished by the family.

Likewise the dignity of the funeral as imparted by the Donelson-Johns service is a fitting last impression of the departed for all.
