

St. Bede's Children Dress As Saints for Halloween

LATHRUP—Halloween day was the scene of much excitement for the children of St. Bede's school.

Instead of their usual costumes for the holiday, the children dressed as their patron saints. Instead of the usual costumes for the holiday, the children and gypsies, St. Joan, St. Patrick, St. Theresa and St. Bede walked the corridors.

Though small in stature and meek of voice, the children wore their costumes with great pride and with heads held high.

MOTHERS were invited to watch the parade around the school and hear the children sing a hymn. Each child had the chance to tell about his particular saint in a speech.

For weeks mothers had been working on the costumes and roaching the children with their lines. Many searched for pictures of their particular saint so as to get as much of the detail of the robes, capes and scarves as possible.

THE COSTUMES had a sobering effect on most of the youngsters and they kept their dignity even though their halos slipped and their wings were crushed.

The youngsters hope that they can again dress as the children God when Halloween next rolls around.

Order Study of Southfield Lights

LATHRUP—Council instructed its road committee at the regular Monday night meeting to further investigate the installation of intersection lights and reflector signs on Southfield.

City Administrator Leonard A. Watchowski told council the light plan is "necessary" but said that at present there was no money available for the plan. He recommended that the project be included in next year's budget.

Edison Co. has made a study of the plan and has come up with recommendations. Council suggested the road committee meet with Edison representatives to further investigate the proposed light installation.

Council said that when reports and recommendations are ready a public hearing will be held. It instructed the road committee to report back to council with recommendations before the next budget is drawn up.

Bloomfield West Social Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Layman of Bloomfield Glen road recently returned from a vacation in the Smokies. They were accompanied by their two daughters and Mrs. Layman's father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith of Detroit. On a three mile hike up a mountain road, they were surprised to find considerable snow, which was unusual for this time of year.

A visit to Niagara Falls was included in the Canadian motor trip completed by the William Witt family of Inkster road. With daughters, Kathy and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Milne spent some time with relatives in Cambellville, Ontario.

Ricky Harber, 2½, was accompanied by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Barber of Eastmoor-road, on his first plane ride last weekend. The Barbers visited Barber's aunt, Miss Emma Barber of Jamestown, N. Y.

Jahire Phelps, 9 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps of Walnut Lake road, is a student of the piano and violin at her father's appreciation of good music, her parents took her to a concert given by the U.S. Marine band. The following evening found the threesome at the Institute of Arts, enjoying the music of the "Soloists Di Zagreb", a group of 16 string players.

Mr. and Mrs. Crew Couze, 4011 W. Maple, were among the group who enjoyed cocktails and dinner at the DAC as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Couze of Norvich. Following dinner, the party went on to the Ford auditorium for the Detroit Symphony concert.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Couze hosted a potluck dinner preceding "Wake Up My Darling" put on by the West Bloomfield Players at West Bloomfield high school. Attending the dinner and play were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Walker.

Thom Maund, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Maund of Barramont road, left this morning by plane to attend the Associated Collegiate Press convention in New York city as a representative of the Wayne State university newspaper, "The Daily Collegian".

Pumpkins Decorate Recreation Room

BLOOMFIELD WEST—Twenty fifth graders from Holy Name school were guests of Richard Kreuz at a Halloween party at the home of his mother, Mrs. Robert L. Kreuz on Braemore road. Games were played in a recreation room decorated with pumpkins, pumpkins and witches. The costumed youngsters also enjoyed a treasure hunt and bobbed for apples.

On Oct. 30, Mrs. Kreuz invited the adults in the neighborhood to a party following the routine set for the youngsters affair. It was the consensus of opinion that a group of uninitiated grownups playing children's games was nothing short of hilarious.

Lathrup Mail Mixup Explained

LATHRUP—Faulty mail delivery is not the fault of the Lathrup post office, Postmaster David E. Redwood told city council Monday. Three and four day delays in delivery in most cases has been traced to the manner of addressing the mail, Redwood said, adding that mail is cleared from the local post office in one day.

Many residents are leaving the words, "Lathrup Village", off of their addresses, Redwood said. If "Lathrup Village" has not been substituted for "Birmingham", the mail will go to the Birmingham post office, Redwood re-

Lathrup Project Gets Federal Aid

LATHRUP—A sewage treatment project by Lathrup has been given top priority by the State water resources commission. The classification entitles Lathrup to federal funds for assistance in carrying out the project. Lathrup is expected to get $38,800 in federal money but has been told that it must send in a signed contract for the sewage treatment work immediately or face being dropped from the priority list.
