

Let's Dance!

Some surprised Little Indian Guides got into the dance at a recent pow wow attended by 175 big and little braves of the YMCA Indian Guides. Here Johnnie Galpin is led onto the floor of Baldwin school gymnasium by a pretty squaw. She was one of the eight dancers of the Metropolitan Indian dance association who demonstrated several colorful dances at the meeting. The dancers, teen agers from St. Clair Shores, pulled members of the audience into their circle at the end of their last number.

Asks Residents To Help Make Cleaner B'ham

The person who strews litter in public places is a "litterbug" whether he does it in summer or winter.

Birmingham City Commissioner Florence Willett emphasized this as she appealed to residents to make a greater effort to keep Birmingham clean.

"We have quite a job to do to keep Birmingham beautiful, for there are several spots where this litter is especially evident," she commented. She mentioned downtown city streets in particular.

"WE ARE DOING a pretty good job now of using those several containers at strategic downtown locations," she said, "but greater use still can be made of them. Can't we stuff them fuller?"

There is a tendency, she added, for people to be more careful in the summertime with their litter than they do when winter comes.

"Why, I don't know, she admitted. "But it's a year-round necessity. Litter lying in the snow and slush doesn't look any prettier than it would on the pavement."
