

Repeat Wedding Vows In Candlelight Ceremony

Sharon Elaine Wendt and Robert J. McKinley pledged their nuptial vows Saturday evening in a 7 o'clock ceremony at St. John's Methodist church in Royal Oak. The Rev. Bryan Evans performed the candlelight ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Wendt entertained 60 guests at their home in Royal Oak. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor J. McKinley of East Frank, Birmingham.

THE BRIDE CHOSE a gown fashioned of chantilly lace over satin featuring a sabrina neckline, fitted bodice, long sleeves and a scalloped hemline. A crown of seed pearls secured her shoulder length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Mrs. Nancy Nyberg wore a blue ballerina length gown featuring short sleeves and scooped neckline for her duties as matron of honor. She carried pink carnations.

Richard McKinley, brother of the groom, stood as best man. Mother of the bride selected a Royal blue sheath with black accessories and Mrs. McKinley chose a black and white checked suit with black accessories. Both mothers had white mums.

THE NEW MRS. MCKINLEY changed to a red wool jersey dress for her honeymoon to Takasemen Falls.

The young couple will reside in Clawson.

To Open 11th Season With 'Master Singers'

"Spontaneous, versatile and varied," those are the words for Joseph Liebling and The Master Singers.

The chorus of 20 unaccompanied mixed voices under the dynamic direction of conductor Joseph Liebling, will perform at the Royal Oak Dondero high school auditorium Friday, Nov. 1, at 8:15 p.m. This will be the first Community Concert program of the 11th season.

THE YOUNG SINGERS, representative of the best musical organizations and institutions in New York, including the former Robert Shaw Chorale, were organized three years ago.

The sole purpose of The Master Singers was to sing for the sheer joy of singing. The warmth and brilliance of this new group, their sweeping range of repertory and their standard of musicianship that would tolerate nothing short of perfection have led to an enthusiastic reception wherever they have appeared.

THE DYNAMIC YOUNG director has tried his hand at practically every branch of musical creation, including composer, conductor, pianist and singer, and has enjoyed conspicuous success in each and every one.

Donation Tea

Mrs. Carl B. Snyder of Bloomfield Hills was hostess at her home recently for a donation tea sponsored by Crittenton general hospital Woman's auxiliary.

Liebling studied choral conducting with Robert Shaw and sang in the famous Chorale for five years. It is this wealth and variety of training and experience which Mr. Liebling brings to his conducting of The Master Singers that make the word "versatile" singularly appropriate for him.

Doesn't Mommy want me any more?

Sure she does, darling. But, you see, Daddy is gone and right now Mommy doesn't know how in the world she is going to take care of you. There are so many things a little girl like you should have and Mommy can't give them to you now that she is alone.

It's not right, you say, that a small child should be the one to suffer most when a home breaks up. We agree, it isn't. But then, it usually is the little ones who bear the lasting hurt of an estranged family.

But this little girl will have a home until Mommy is able to take care of her again. It's a wonderful home full of the love and understanding she needs so desperately. It's run by members of the gentlest army in the world . . . The Salvation Army.

The Edwin Denby Memorial Home for Children has been administered and supported by the Salvation Army for over 25 years. Here the little ones from broken homes find complete care—spiritual, physical, mental and social. The Salvation Army's Edwin Denby Memorial Home for Children is a participating agency in Detroit's United Foundation Torch Drive. Remember that when you are called on to give. Be glad you can give . . . give once for all.
