

Churchwomen Will Bring Aid, Gain Understanding

"Bread, Freedom and Dignity" is the theme for World Community day Friday, Nov. 1. World Community day is a spiritual undertaking through which ten million women dedicate themselves to building life, friendship, and universal peace. It is sponsored here by the United Church Women of Birmingham at First Presbyterian church from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Wives of participating churches are collecting warm clothing, blankets, household linens, and materials which will be dedicated at the meeting and sent on to homeless men, women and children who, as refugees, are still in camps in Europe, the Middle East, and Southeast Asia.

The offering will go to help meet emergency situations and for special self-help projects in underdeveloped areas.

THE PROGRAM of the day is to be one of worship and study, that there may be greater understanding of the needs of emerging peoples for bread, freedom and dignity.

Following a devotion service, Mrs. Robert Boltwood, director of the Christian friendship program of the Detroit association of American Baptist churches, will moderate a panel discussion.

Panel members include P. L. Joseph, a business man from India and Birmingham; Parkin, a teacher from Jamaica; Both are now studying at Wayne state university.

JOINING THEM in the discussion will be Mrs. Ariel, former matron in a hospital in India, now an exchange nurse working at Harper hospital in Detroit, and Arnold Persaw of British Guiana.

The day is an opportunity to participate in a program of sharing and to advance understanding of world affairs and the work of the United Nations. Anyone having clothing to give may contact one of the participating churches.

'You Gave Me My First Yule Gift' Speaker Relates

"I received my first Christmas gift when I was six years old. And you gave it to me," announced Mrs. Induk Pakk, in her talk last week before the Women's auxiliary of Christ Church Cranbrook. "And do you know what it was? It was a No. 2 yellow pencil and pad of writing paper, from your Woodworth store. Then when I wrote my book 'September Monkey,' I wrote it with a No. 2 yellow pencil on a pad of paper."

Writing this book, Mrs. Pakk became the first Korean authoress. The royalties from "September Monkey" will go toward the founding of a school in Korea, where students may work for their education. This type of school does not exist in Korea now and is all part of a larger plan to bring independence to small peoples.

MAJOR PROJECT of this plan are: bring Christ to all Communists; educate the women of Korea; let the people become land owners.

The school will be non-denominational, and to speed its founding Mrs. Pakk has spent the last nine years traveling and lecturing in this country. To save, she travels by bus, riding all night before she made her two Birmingham appearances. She photographed her book at the Book Table. That evening she lectured at the First Methodist church, then to Boston. "The lady definitely has a plan!"

Auxiliary Meet

Members of the Women's missionary federation, an auxiliary of the American Lutheran church, met for their Michigan district convention in Mt. Zion Lutheran church, Detroit, Tuesday. Sessions are slated for 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.

'Storm' to Visit

Featured guest at next Monday's meeting of the Men's club of St. James Episcopal church will be Bill McCready, a law student, and his leader, dog, Storm. The dinner meeting begins at 7 p.m. in the church undercroft.

Tea To Follow

Fashion Show

Of Hunter Guild

Eight Presbyterian women have been named to pour at the tea following the fashion show presented by Sarah Hunter Guild at First Presbyterian church Wednesday.

Mrs. James Hinkamp and Mrs. John MacDonald, co-chairmen of the tea, have named Mrs. C. C. Adams; Mrs. Robert Gibson; Mrs. Robert Graham; Mrs. Glen Harris; Mrs. William Hulbert, Guild president; Mrs. Nelson Miles; Mrs. Robert Watt; and Mrs. L. I. Woolson.

The tea will follow the 1:30 show of casual, afternoon and evening fashions presented by Davidson's. Intermission entertainment will be provided by the Arthur Murray dance studio of Birmingham. Tickets may be obtained through any church circle or guild, or by calling the ticket chairman, Mrs. James Baldwin.

Catholic Book Discussion Club Sets Nov. Meet

A Catholic book discussion club recently organized at Holy Name church, will discuss the book, "Temptations for Readers and Reviewers," by Rev. Fr. Harold Gardner, S. J., when it holds its first session Wednesday, Nov. 13.

The meet is slated in St. Anne's hall at 8:30 a.m. Anyone in the parish interested in the new group, formed to stimulate interest in the writings of prominent Catholic authors, is invited to join in the sessions. They will be held the second Wednesday of each month through June.

Nov. 5 Dedication Set For Holy Name Church

Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit, will formally dedicate the new Holy Name church in Birmingham Tuesday, Nov. 5, at special ceremonies at the church at 8 p.m.

Monsignor Carroll F. Deady, former pastor of Holy Name church, will preach at the dedication services. Msgr. Deady, formerly superintendent of parochial schools in the Detroit archdiocese, was Holy Name's pastor for one year from 1952 to 1953.

All former assistant priests at the church have been invited to participate in the ceremonies and a procession.

The large Holy Name parish numbers over 1200 families. First services were held in the new church structure in November, 1955. Addition of stained glass windows, mosaics and many items imported from Europe has only recently been completed.

ownership, heads this important committee. Last week she conducted a workshop on evangelism and spiritual life at a meeting for over 125 Congregational women's state presidents and chairmen from 19 Midwestern states.

Mrs. Olsen attends the Congregational church of Birmingham and has been active for some time in denominational work.

At the session last week in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, she helped introduce a plan for Midwestern women to entertain their overseas Congregational women "cousins" next summer. The visitors will be in the U.S. for a meeting of the International Congregational council.

ALSO ON LAST WEEK'S program at Sioux Falls was a talk by Mrs. Charles Gunn, of Great Bend, Kansas, who warned women "not to let age throw you."

In her talk on leadership, Mrs. Gunn said, "a woman is alive as long as she grows, and she grows as long as she keeps learning."

To which we would add, "and as long as she DOES something with what she learns."

For our dough, it does no good to have learning if you don't use it.

When he doesn't want to go out in the rain, Rev. Dr. Emil Kontz, of First Baptist church, says, "I believe in immersion, but I don't believe in sprinkling."
