Light Up the Sky Starts October 11

Rehearsals for St. Dunstan's Guild first production of the 1957-58 season, "Mess Hart's 'Light Up the Sky,'" are going into the final week at the Cranbrook Pavilion on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills. The play opens next Friday, October 11th, and will be presented Saturday the 12th and the following weekend, October 13th and 14th.

Nathaniel Doughty, of Birmingham, one of St. Dunstan's most experienced directors and actors, is directing a cast of 13 in this fast moving comedy about the pre-Broadway opening of a new play by an unknown author. Production manager is Mrs. Albert P. Remington of Wing Lake.

Playing the role of a beautiful famous lady of the stage is Mrs. William Vassu, who was first seen here last fall in St. Dunstan's production of "Giglit." Mrs. Vassu appeared at Will-O-Way this summer in "Desk Set."

OTHERS IN THE CAST are Mrs. Henry M. Jackson, Mrs. Jack U. Kinn, Weston Meyer, Walker Graham, Walter Skinner, Frederick Graef, Frederick Bahr, James Kay Hahn, Richard O'Reilly, James Maunders and John Warner. Mrs. Paul N. Averill designed the set, which has been built by James Schneider and his fast-working crew.

This year for the first time, St. Dunstan's is offering season tickets to members and the general public. Books of five tickets can be purchased for the price of four. Tickets are also available at the door.
