Additional Merits Earned By 16 Scouts at Campout

The D Bar A ranch, located near Metamora, was last week's campout site for 16 Boy Scouts of troop B4. The Scouts were led by Don Alison and Chuck Moore, scout master and assistant scout master, on hikes, horseback riding and cookouts. The boys found this a very pleasant way to earn additional merits. Jack Minor's bird sanctuary in Canada, will be the location of their next campout, during fall.

It was hard to detect whether it was the North Adams parents or their boys that were the most excited at the Spartan-Tiger football game Saturday morning at the Birmingham high school field.

The junior varsity and the varsity put all they had into the game, that proved to be most exciting. Even though the Spartans lost both games to the Tigers, they had their coaches "beaming" over their enthusiasm, their parents "hoarse" from shouting from the stands, and the cheer leaders routing from the sidelines.

The boys are looking forward to their second game against the Wolverines at Pierce school, Friday evening at 7.

The Robert Brodie home on Barrow road was fairly "hoppin'" on Sept. 20, when their daughter, Carol, celebrated her 15th birthday with a slumber party.

The party began with a birthday dinner, her guests were all students of Derby junior high. The party scene changed to charades, then on to a "jam session" before calling it a night.

The living room floor was lined with sleeping bags and in them were: Carol, Linda Haack, Janet Adams, Judy Nimeth, Joy Broxton, Linda Henderson, Nancy Metcalfe, Ann D'Elvevre, and Janice McDaid of Detroit.

The Fred E. Bigelows of North Adams road entertained friends at the Detroit Athletic club last Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Bigelow's birthday.

Those attending the dinner party were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ryder of Grosse Pointe Woods, Miss Romana Wright of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coughlan and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Yates of Birmingham.

Orchard Lake country club was the setting for the Canterbury dance club, Sept. 21. During the dance, carnation corsages were pinned on all the charter members' wives in recognition of the 10 years the club has been active. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brodie of Barrow road were among the charter members honored.

Paul Johnston of Bolingbroke drive hosted a "stag party" at his home last Monday evening. Among those attending the buffet supper were: L. H. Lippincott, C. H. Lippincott, Fay Fulmer, Lester Root, Bernard McCombs, Howard Baxter and Del Wolfe. Others were: Dave Atherton, Jack Curns, Morgan Stewart, Norman Garvey and Walter Hancock all of Flint.

St. Catherine's guild of the St. James Episcopal church in Birmingham gave a "toy party" Sept. 2.

Those from Pine Hill subdivision joining in the party fun were: Mrs. Marc Hagerman, Mrs. Robb Barnes, Mrs. Clyde Morgan, Mrs. Michael Redfield, Mrs. Walter Cornelius, Mrs. Lynn Hudler, Mrs. Robert Lossing, Mrs. Ernest Cole, Mrs. Thomas Richings, Mrs. James Kennedy and Mrs. Richard Higgins.

During the next three weeks the William Plumbs of Butternut Hill drive will be enjoying a change of scenery. Their destination will be Redington Shores near St. Petersburg, Fla. While there they plan to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Norton, former residents of North Adams road.

The Plumbs became new grandparents on Sept. 15. The baby is Nancy Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis. The Lewis' are keeping the home fires burning on Butternut Hill drive until their new home is completed in October.

The James McPartlans of Pine Hill drive have just returned from a weekend cruise with J. Smith and Cherrie Tiffany. The cruise included a stop at the St. Clair Yacht club to join in the regatta.
