

at the CHURCH DOOR

Monsignor Eugene Paddock is expected to return here Monday.

He probably visited many beautiful churches while on his six-week European tour, but none could be more inspiring to him, we'll wager, than his own Holy Name church in Birmingham.

A few weeks ago workmen completed installation of the huge stained glass windows in the church. Other mosaics, sculpture and art pieces have been arriving many of them from Europe, since the church was completed in November, 1955.

The interior finishing is expected to be completed by November, and plans are to hold the dedication of the church that month. Edward Cardinal Mooney is expected to make the dedication.

The new church's interior is refreshingly modern and simple. Striking is the word for it. And most important, it's inspiring.

You know those little envelopes with windows in them that come in the magazine frequently? Well, the Rev. Carl Baird received one from the Reader's Digest recently and started to throw it in the wastebasket.

According to the Congregational church of Birmingham's newsletter, he started to toss the envelope because it looked like advertising.

Anyway, Mr. Baird opened it, and found the $100 check for his contribution to this month's "Life in These United States."

Presbyterian Women Schedule Rummage Sale

Presbyterian men would be wise to peek in their closets to be sure their pet jackets are not at the church rummage sale, according to a spokesman for the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church.

The association is sponsoring its rummage sale in the church social hall, 1600 W. Maple at Chesterfield, next Thursday and Friday, Oct. 10 and 11.

Mr. Bronson Brant, general chairman for the sale, has announced the hours will be 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday and 9 to 6 p.m. Friday. Rummage will be received at the east entrance of the church from 8 to 5 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday preceding the sale.

Clothing, shoes and accessories for men, women and children will be offered for sale, as well as household furnishings such as linens, lamps, draperies, dishes, and pieces of furniture. A snack bar will be open to the public.

The association will gather in the morning for work and study.

Need Still Urgent For Blood, Bank Sponsors State

A reminder that there is an urgent need in Oakland county for blood was issued this week by St. James Episcopal church. The group is sponsoring a Red Cross blood bank from 2 to 8 p.m. Wednesday in the church undercroft. Nursery service will be provided.

Blood may be credited anywhere, and the Red Cross supplies 40 percent of the blood needed in this area, a spokesman for the auxiliary said.

Mrs. Charles Kreidler is general chairman of the blood-bank, assisted by Mrs. Edmund Leavenworth and Mrs. Merle Slack. Mrs. Lawrence Smith is in charge of donor recruitment.

Gass Household Likes 'Bishy'

Thirteen-year-old Pat Gass pets Bishy, mother and her father, the Rev. Kenneth H. Gass, new rector of St. James Episcopal church.

'Bishop' Now Residing At St. James Rectory

By JULIE CHANDLER

There's a "Bishop" living at the rectory of St. James Episcopal church nowadays. And he's leading a soft life.

His formal title is "The Bishop of Kent," and he's a black-eyed albatross. "Bishy," as he is nicknamed, moved into 680 Wilminton, Birmingham, with the Rev. Kenneth H. Gass and family last week.

The amiable albatross receives many affectionate pats from one member of the Gass household, pretty 13-year-old Pat, who loves being an eighth grader at Derby junior high school.

BISHY RELAXES on the rose-colored carpet in the big living room so cheerfully appointed by another of his admirers, the new rector's wife, Janet.

Another of Bishy's friends in the household is Mrs. Truman Gass, the widowed mother of Mr. Gass. Everyone in the Gass household loves Bishy, even if he does lead a cushy existence. They didn't say a thing when Bishy snuggled in comfort last week as they unpacked boxes, placed furniture, and made the house look cozy and settled. Even down to the pretty slip-covers of white enlaid with green in the living room.

NOR DID THE complain as Bishy sat and watched them hang the scenic oil paintings which are the result of one of Mr. Gass's hobbies.

Sometimes Bishy—the lucky dog—even hears soothing music, as he occupies a soft spot on the carpet. Both Pat and her mother add the high-fidelity note when they play the handsome baby grand piano in a corner near the big fireplace.

Mr. Gass enjoys his hobbies of dry fly and trout fishing. Bishy used to go to the veterinary's while the rest of the family vacationed. But now even that is changed.
