

BHS Parking Lot Chairman Reveals New Sticker Plan

By JULIE HOOVER

A new automobile sticker system is being inaugurated at Birmingham high school to facilitate identification of cars in the school parking lot. Dave Muhltner, chairman of the parking lot, announced the plan in Student Congress last week. All students who drive to school will have numbered stickers on their cars. These numbers and the drivers' names will be registered in the office. The system will make it easier to ticket illegally parked cars and to notify the driver if his lights or radio are left on.

In response to the many requests concerning the seventh grade adding machine arithmetic program, Miss Catherine Slick, one of the math teachers, gives the following reply: "The machine arithmetic program is not for the purpose of making machine operations out of students. The program is designed to aid the students in their understanding of numbers and number relationships. Most of all, it aids in understanding place value. The material covered in this program is basic... the same as that covered in the conventional arithmetic class. There is one exception. The material is covered three times through estimating the answer, working the problem, and finally through checking to see that we have found the correct answer."
