Elmer Mundt Plans Recital

The 30th anniversary of Elmer Mundt's piano teaching career will be celebrated in a recital to be given at the Baldwin library auditorium Saturday at 3 p.m.

Mr. Mundt, who is a faculty member of the Detroit Institute of Musical Art, will present his students during the first half of the program. Birmingham young people taking part are Ginny Dawson, Terry Fournier, Jean Greene, Noel Heinze, Michael Koenigs, Margie Morris, Karen Plev and Allison Wardrop.

Mr. Mundt has invited a former student, Fredric T. Hankel, now a distinguished harpsichord and clavichord player, to give a clavichord recital during the second half of the program. Fredric, who is the son of the F. Y. Henkels of Baldwin court teaches music in Cleveland.

Pancake Dinner

A pancake dinner, complete with flapjacks, sausage, cider, apple sauce and ice cream, will be served at Our Shepherd Lutheran church, 24 Fourteen Mile road, Birmingham, Nov. 1. Sponsored by the PTL of the Christian Day school, the dinner will be served from 5-7:30 p.m.

Derby Days Book Fair

PTA of Derby school is sponsoring a "Derby Days Book Fair" to enlarge the school's library on Nov. 4, 5 and 6 from 8-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Approximately 1200 books will be on display in the school's main lobby for seventh, eighth and ninth grade students. Although the books are being sold at retail prices, by a special arrangement with the Old Professor book shop, the PTA profits will be used to purchase library books. A person will be in charge to answer all questions and Derby mothers will be on hand to complete the sale. Looking at the empty bookshelves in the library are (from left) Joan Lowmke, John Videgar, president of the student council, Dick Schwarze and Mrs. Robert Grazier, librarian and PTA teacher vice president.

On House Council

Carol Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Miller of Old Salem court, Birmingham, has been elected to the house council of her residence hall at Grinnell college for the first semester of this academic year.
