Woodcreek Farms Social Briefs

Mary Jo Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fisher of Wellington, and Virginia Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson of Millbrook, are leaving for East Lansing Sunday to begin their freshman year at Michigan State University.

Last week Judy Weightman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Weightman, of Millbrook and Tamar Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis of Wellington began their freshman studies at Albion College.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Schlotterback have returned to Beech Hill after a 10-day holiday in Eugene, Ore., where they visited daughter Ann.

Despite a Sept. 10 rain, 50 guests arrived at the Dr. Zar Reader home on Wellington to carry on a bake sale and white elephant auction as a part of the fun planned by the Ford hospital staff. Winners of their respective husbands' flabbergasted that they earned a hundred and fifty dollars on cast-offs and cakes. The next project is to find a suitable charity to endow. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Dennis Knapp, Mrs. Conrad Lam, Mrs. Paul Bartlett and Mrs. Robert Schmek. Auctioneer was Mrs. J. T. Howell of Lathrup.

Members of the Birmingham Hammond Organ society will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter, Southbrook Lane, Oct. 2 to hear guest artist Victoria Klaisson.

Franklin Social Briefs

All eyes are on Colony Hill where a bumper crop of babies is expected this season. Following close on the heels of the birth of the Rosello cherub several weeks ago, comes news of a first son and fourth child for Mr. and Mrs. William Heffley. Albert Heffley II made his arrival Saturday.

There's a big weekend ahead for Franklins. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Deneau of Franklin Hills drive and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelley of Reiffers. The two couples will participate in the President's Cup races on the Potomac.

Deneau is co-owner of the hydroplane "Whatta Pickle". Kelley is going along as a pit crew member for the 160 mile-an-hour contender.

Emil Bates of Mountainview hosted 20 colleagues of the Post Intermediate Faculty Wednesday at a corn roast. About five rows of corn have been nurtured along all summer for this event in the Bates garden.

Seventeen friends of Bob Esterline of Ovid drive surprised him with a "just busy last week."

Mrs. Harold Roseberry of Wellington road entertained at a bridge-luncheon for 17 last week. Her ballet-teacher daughter, Sue, soon begins her strenuous schedule of classes for Franklin's many budding ballerinas.

Mrs. Norman Currin has a bull by the tail. Three years ago she successfully organized the Franklin School PTA Halloween Fair and has been chairwoman it ever since.

It's a big job, fraught with details and pressure, but has the ardent support of every starry-eyed child in Franklin. So once again, Mrs. Currin has consented to be general chairman.

Mrs. Ellis Prens of Willowgreen, Franklin United Foundation Drive chairman, today is holding a "kick-off" luncheon for this year's volunteers. Aside from the business at hand, captains have been invited to remain for an afternoon of cards and visiting.

WSCS Fashion Models Are Practicing

FRANKLIN—If you catch Mama walking with a book on her head, chances are she's practicing for her modeling assignment. A dozen Franklin ladies will model morning, afternoon and evening apparel at the WSCS fashion show and tea at the Franklin Community church Sept. 27.

Mrs. Doug Day, former society writer and member of the group, will do the commentary as Mrs. James Keane, Mrs. Win Humman, Mrs. Leah Madge, Mrs. Robert Hampson, Mrs. Ralph Sheets, Mrs. Gloria Baugh, Mrs. Richard Probst, Mrs. Richard Caskey, Mrs. Richard Pass, Mrs. Norman Spooner and Mrs. Robert Searis model ensembles from a local shop.

Tea arrangements are being handled by Mrs. John McLean. Mrs. Leonard Pogue is general chairman.

DON ODLE left for Alma college Sunday.

Bob Treadway joins the ivy league set at Cornell this week.

The Robert Mitchells drive Judy to Beloit, Wis. Saturday and Gayle Bristol headed for Eastman school in Rochester.

Marktha Hill will be at Purdue while Chris Lewis is at Forest Lake and Sue Polhusen enters the University of Wisconsin.

At U of M since last Thursday is Dick Miller, Frank Wilson, Roger Hard and Dave Hughes.

Jay Miller headed for Stanford while Michigan State university welcomed Marlene Rose, Judy Anderson, Mary Fellows and Bib Hoffman.

Mike Patterson is at William and Mary and here at home, Brenda Whiting has enrolled at the University of Detroit.

The Roy Carckners have sold their Bingham road home but have until November to decide on life beneath the waving Florida palms or perhaps another location in Michigan.

Franklin Village Players have selected and cast their forthcoming production, "The White Sheep of the Family".

Rehearsals with director Don Odle are under way and performance dates set for November 7, 8 and 9.

Cast in the three-act comedy are Ray Adams, Mrs. Don Hacker, Jack Jackson, Mrs. Oliver Gardner, John Baker, Harlow Bates, Mrs. Leonard Lawton, Mrs. Richard Probst and Claude Cook.

THE PLAY, written by L. Du-Gardie Pearce and Ian Hay is a refreshing change of pace for the Players who for the past five years have presented two plays a year in the Franklin Community hall.

They are preparing five skits for Franklin PTJ meetings and are the parent sponsors of ten-age "Junior Players," launched several weeks ago.

Annual Election For Community Association

FRANKLIN — Election of officers and annual reports for the Franklin Community Association will be Thursday, Sept. 26 following a smorgasbord dinner at the Community hall.

The meeting is open to every adult male in the village, also will disclose the results of the recent Bar-B-Que and Round-up.

Members are especially urged to invite their new neighbors. It is hoped those who have been inactive for the past few years will attend.

Debbie Reynolds Dines with 33 B'ham Youngsters

Sue Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rogers of Woodhaven lane, spent a five-week vacation on a tour visiting Yellowstone national park, the Tetons, Hollywood and San Francisco.

She participated in mountain climbing and horseback riding in the Tetons, and in Hollywood the group had lunch with Debbie Reynolds.

Thirty-three Birmingham youngsters were among the 88 youngsters from other states, who made the tour in a caravan of 11 station wagons. The group slept outdoors in sleeping bags during the entire trip, with the exception of three nights in Hollywood.

Bingham Farms Social Briefs

Wednesday was moving day for the Albert Meadows family who transferred their household effects from Bingham road to a brand new home on Hickory Lane just off Franklin road.

Guests from Santiago, Chile, on their way home from a summer in Ontario, Canada, prompted a dinner party Tuesday night at the Dudley Campbell home. Visitors were Mrs. Campbell's aunt, Mrs. Thomas Van Natta, a cousin and son, Mrs. C. W. Bennett and ten-year-old Hill Bennett.

The dinner Tuesday included Mrs. Van Natta's area friends. A Wednesday dinner at Dr. Robert Hatt's residence on Academy Row brought together 17 members of the family to visit with their South American relatives.

Judy Knudsen is reported to have headed for her first year at Connecticut College for Women.

The Roy Carckners have sold their Bingham road home but have until November to decide on life beneath the waving Florida palms or perhaps another location in Michigan.
