

Seniors Jam List Of BHS 'Trippers'

The Washington group is rapidly becoming a problem with the growth of the high school and senior classes. This year over 300 students, or about 70 per cent of the class, is signing up for the trip. Facing the situation, E. A. Hubbard, director, said the boat trip to Williamsburg, always one of the highlights, may have to be cancelled. It appeared likely that the Washington trip will be taken in two groups in the future.

BHS Class of '57 Presents $867 Gift To School Library

Briefly returning to school recently for the purpose of disposing of the $867 surplus in the 1957 Birmingham high school class treasury, an alumni committee decided to give the money to the school library. The committee was made of Jim Bain, president of the class of 1957; Paula Struck secretary; Tom McDaniel, treasurer; and advisers with Harold VanDrugt, as chairman. The money will buy about 400 books to improve reading facilities. "This is a most generous contribution to our library and will benefit all our students and teachers for a long time," said Mrs. Barbara Rice, librarian.

Something New Is Added

Something new has been added to the safety patrol boys' duties and equipment at Walnut Lake school. The 15 boys now wear white helmets in addition to their belts, carry red and white flags on four-foot poles for warning motorists at crossings, and attend ceremonies as the school's flag is raised mornings and lowered after school each day. Howard Hendricks, 11-year-old captain of the safety patrol, pulls while Lynn Gibson, 11, safety patrol lieutenant, holds the flag ready for raising. The boys place their white helmets on the ground before them as they perform the flag-raising ceremony, at which Captain Hendricks holds inspection each morning. The easily-viewed hats and flags were obtained at the suggestion of Principal Al Schumm. The school's PTA will reimburse the general funds used for the purchase after a bake sale in November. Mrs. Elizabeth Fremont is safety patrol adviser. Other members of the patrol are Allen Kirpluck, Ray Martin, Rocky Driver, Fred Huber, Sergei Yerbich, Harold Hendricks, Joel Smith, Wayne Camp, John Hamstefter, Brian Casey, Ronnie Maiorano, Steven Loupe and David Breedlove.

5 GAA Officers From Birmingham At League Event

Going to Port Huron Methodist camp for an Eastern Michigan league retreat last Thursday and Friday were five Birmingham high school GAA officers. Miss Sally Reid, Miss Judy Stevenson, and Miss Barbara Stephenson, gym instructors at BHS and advisers of the club, accompanied Pamela Parkins, president; Janet Hershberger, vice president; Nancy Stewart, treasurer; Nancy Hagen, public relations; and Gayle Norris, historian, to the camp. Birmingham was host school to the conference and organized entertainment for Thursday night. Other activities during retreat included discussion of the various girls' associations and League playdays. The girls also played competitive volleyball and baseball and swam.

BUNA Organizes For Year at BHS

An organization meeting of the Birmingham United Nations association was held at Birmingham high school last night. Pete Brink and Betty Nichols, American Field Service summer ambassadors to Europe, spoke to the group of former members to plan the year's program. Secretary general and president of the general assembly were elected. Projects will include the annual flapjack flip and general assembly in the spring. Through the year over 200 members will study the 81 member nations at the UN.

At the spring assembly they will offer resolutions in line with the foreign policy of the country each represents. Countries will be assigned in a future meeting. Adviser of the organization is George Pappas, instructor in international relations.
