Cranbrook Corridor

Cranbrook this year welcomes six new masters to its faculty. Peter Kerr comes to Cranbrook to head the art department. Teaching English this year, as well as assisting in the coaching of the soccer team, will be John R. Hunting. H. Edward Born will be an apprentice teacher this year in history and mathematics. James H. Garlick will be a part time master, working in the science department teaching biology. Mr. Fremlin will teach instrumental music and act as a substitute teacher. Instructing physical education classes will be Nicholas Wiese.

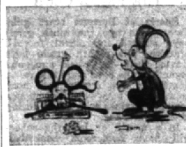

Cranbrook's second American Field Service exchange student is Christian Emil Stoud Platon from Bergen, Norway. "Chris" has already entered our school activities, as he is on the varsity soccer team. In the spring Chris plans to go out for the track team as a distance runner. He has done considerable distance running at home and hopes he can be of some help to the team.

He left home in early August and journeyed to Rotterdam, Holland, by train and then on to New York by boat. He traveled to Detroit by bus. He was met by his American foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Butzel, and their son John, now a junior at Cranbrook. After a month in this country,

BHS Phone Book Being Prepared

A student telephone directory is being planned by Raymond Gault's sociology class, containing names, addresses, phone numbers and grades of all Birmingham high school students and teachers who give their consent.

Ron Booth is in charge of arranging information, with Larry Cook doing editing and art work. It will be sold at 15 cents per copy. Chris now feels right at home. He has had absolutely no trouble with English, showing he has mastered our language which many find so difficult to learn.
