Mich. State Students United in Marriage

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Three attendants in powder blue taffeta gowns preceded Emily Ann Schuster down the aisle of Grace Lutheran church in Pontiac for her marriage Saturday to Karl Bernhard Ruppel. The Rev. Richard Stuckmeyer solemnized the 3 o'clock ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schuster of Cedarholm lane, wore a wedding gown of white taffeta with a chastilly lace bodice, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt.

HER FINGER TIP VEIL of illusion was secured to a small headpiece accented by seed pearls, lace and a row of tiny wax orange blossoms taken from her mother's wedding crown. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and three white roses fastened to a small colonial cascade of stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Beyer. Bridesmaids were Joyce Bohn and Nancy Stephenson. With their ballerina length gowns, they wore tiny net caps of powder blue with darker blue velvet trim. They carried cascades of pink carnations.

THE GROOM, son of Dr. and Mrs. Christoph W. Ruppel of Mannheim, Germany, asked Adolph Hertzick to be best man. Ushers were Norman Stephenson and Timothy Sellner.

Emily selected a beige wool dress with black accessories for her honeymoon trip to northern Michigan. Upon returning the couple will reside in East Lansing, where they are both students at Michigan State university.

MRS. KARL B. RUPPEL

Great-Grandmother At Christening Of Lynn Booth

After the christening of their six-month old granddaughter, Lynn Darry Booth, Sunday at St. James, Mr. and Mrs. A. John Brennen of Yorkshire entertained at a luncheon for 28 relatives.

Godparents for Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Booth of Banbury, Birmingham, were John, Jr., and Susan Brennen and Mrs. William Lawson of Virginia, the latter by proxy.

Among those present were a great grandmother, Mrs. William Goss of Grosse Pointe Woods; a grandmother, Mrs. A. D. Booth of Sault Ste. Marie and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Hills and son, Mark, of Greenbay, Wis., all houseguests of the John Brennens.

After the busy weekend, Mrs. Brennen will leave today and accompany her son, John, Jr., to Northwester, where he will study for his masters. She will stay the remainder of the week.

At UF Coffee

Mrs. J. C. Honhart of Manor entertained at a desert coffee for district chairmen of area one for the UF drive. Present were Mrs. Robert Bishop, Mrs. Robert Hoenke, Mrs. D. H. Jensen, Mrs. D. J. Babbitt, Mrs. Ronald Gilbert and Mrs. Norman Couch.

BULBS

... were introduced about—they produce the most—well, they are so—heck, you get more for your money by planting spring flowering bulbs than almost any other plant material.

An endless variety of color, height, time of bloom, indoor as well as outdoor, is easy to select as each variety carries a picture and details you will need.

Think of the combinations that are available:—Mme. Pompadour and General DeWet, Turkestanian and Red Emperor, Johan Strauss and Mrs. Backhouse not to mention:—

Peter Pan and Duke of Windsor, etc. Tulips and daffodils like a sunny exposure but do well (and sometimes better) when shaded during the hottest hours of the day.

Their beds should be WELL DRAINED and fortified with BONE MEAL and humus.

Paperwhite Narcissus which are grown indoors in stones and water have a strong rival this year in the exquisite CRAGFORD.

This narcissus can also be grown in the garden—its petals are pure white and the cup (or eye) is scarlet height 11", $1.90 a dozen.

New items in the line are:—Kaufmaman Chapin, Kaufmaman Johan Strauss, Kaufmaman Concerto—Very early and about 6" high.

Rembrant American Flag, Rembrant Cordell Hull, Darwin Pink Supreme, Cottage Artiste

Cottage Cum Laude, Narcissus Firetail, Narcissus Laurens Koster

Amayllis, the ones from South Africa, are ready to be popped into pots pronto. There are two colors, red and orange. With proper care and lots of love they may respond with 8 or 9 flowers up to 7 and 8 inches in diameter.

What a bargain for $3.50 each! Goodbye! New York is the next stop!
