TROY—Temporary acceptance of a sewage treatment plant was voted by city commission Tuesday. The plant, to be built by Macway

Home Builders Inc. in the 47 Mile-Livernois area, will service Troy Meadows and proposed subdivisions Sunnycrest No. 1 and No. 2, according to City Clerk Lawson Lockhart.

Township Players Slate Comedy To Open Season

Township Players of West Bloomfield are rehearsing their first sophisticated comedy, "Wake Up, Darling," by Alex Gottlieb, to be presented at West Bloomfield high school auditorium Oct. 17, 18 and 19.

Township Players formed in the middle of the 1955 season, finished what was left of that season with two successful productions of three-act plays.

Then came the test for the youngest theater group of them all, a full season ('56-'57). Two three-act comedies and a mystery drama were eagerly received by the public, and the name Township Players became well established.

The group has also presented for private audiences a number of one-act plays, entertained other little theater groups, presented a monthly workshop, and participated as casualties in two civil defense demonstrations for the West Bloomfield district.

The second full season opens with "Wake Up, Darling," which the Players believe will be their biggest hit yet produced.

Cranbrook Lists Institute Of Science Plans

CRANBROOK — Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director, Cranbrook Institute of Science, has announced the program for the season in the first issue of the Institute's Newsletter. Although most of the programs are for members and their guests, institute membership is again open to the public.

Professor Pierre Dansereau, dean of the faculty of science at the University of Montreal, talks Sept. 19 with color slides on "Ghana, Newest Nation." A visitor to Ghana last summer, Professor Dansereau will give his first-hand impression of this important new West African nation, once the Mexican volcano, Parícutin, and his films have been incorporated into many Hollywood productions. Two film programs, to be announced later, come Oct. 9 and Nov. 20. Oct. 23, "Understanding the Atom" will be given by Prof. Henry J. Gomberg, U. of M. Phoenix project; on Nov. 13 "Timberline and Tundra" will be discussed by Cleveland P. Grant, and "Discovering the Delmarva" will be given by James A. Fowler on December 10.
