"I WAS AFRAID that might happen," said Eirming-lam Furestry and Parks Director Charles E. Gale when he heard about one of the children at the city reaction department Easter erg hunt Saturday. He was a little four-year-old, who was combing the Springdale pirnic grounds for chocolate eggs along with hundreds of his contemporaries. Suddenly the youngster ran toward his mother from the area nearest the golf course where four-year-olds were hunting. In his hot little hand he triumphantts held up his find—a white golf ball. And it wasn't the Easter bunny who came racing up behind the tol—it was an irate golfer.

OURMINGHAM fire department's pickup the Company of the Co

TWO OF BIRMINGHAM fire department's pickup trucks 'bit off'' more than they could chew last Thursday afternoon. They started across a field to flight a grass fire near Chesterfield and Redding, wound up stuck in the mud. Seems the earth wasn't as solid as they thought it was. City trucks rescued the firemen from their sticky predicament while the firemen extinguished the blaze.

WE DETECT THE BUERGE TOUCH (Hal, that is) in the following item from the Birmingham Lions club bulletin this week;—"got to get to Reed City for Easter so grandma can see her four grandchildren that are practically growing up with no education in our American schools. Better they should be in Portugal, yet, Better still, they should be in some country where they are getting well enough educated to figure out how to get lend-lease or handouts from all of the dummies in America that have no education, but know how to make money."

WHAT'S THAT POSTAL SLOGAN about neither rain, now nor sleet halting the mail? It'll take some doing to conince the Donald McNabs, 161-8. Glenhurst, Birmingham, hat it's so, They had a mail delivery a recent Sunday, elivery of 15 pieces of mail with December postmarks, Fourenwere Christmas cards, and a neighbor received an additional four pieces of mail. Seems Jim Schmidt, moving into he hotse next door, found the waxward mail sufferd in the nearth forme's maillow, Seems what the weather can't do a service worker where almost did.
