Of 7½ Pounds of Wool

Everyone is familiar with the nursery rhyme "Mary had a little lamb," and Judy and Chris Conrad, children of Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Conrad of Square Lake road, have just such a pet!

The lamb, whom the children call either shadow or Stinky, made its debut at Eastover school March 28, for one reason only—to be sheared.

The little black and white Shetland lamb was sheared of seven and a half pounds of wool by Howard Storm, Jr., the 4-H Michigan champion for the past two years at the Michigan State fair.

All the children, parents and teachers were spellbound by the shearing process which took seven minutes in the multi-purpose room of the school. "This is just terrific," were the enthusiastic words of the school principal, William McGuire, at the close of the event.

Shadow was taken home by its owners, Judy and Chris, where it occupies the "guest house" at the rear of the Conrads' ten acres. The lamb was given to the children by their parents a year ago as an Easter present. Shadow romps and plays like a dog, and when Judy and Chris play kick ball the lamb does a mighty good job of butting the ball as that is her favorite delicacy. Alfalfa hay is her main diet along with bottles of milk offered her three times a day.

While shadow settled down to grow another seven pounds of wool, the Conrad children flew to South Bend, Ind., for a few days of their Easter vacation. They visited their aunt and uncle, the Laurence D. St. Johns, who are formerly of Birmingham.

April 18 is the date set on the calendar for the Eastover school spring benefit dance, sponsored by the PTO. Frank Shafers band will supply the music. There will be ballroom and square dancing with Sam Joan as the caller. The dance proceeds will be applied to the Eastover senior program.

A busy time was had at the Rutherford Hill drive home of the M. Hagermans with two of the Hagerman children, Doug, 6, and Steven, 4, celebrating their birthdays with one party March 29.

The 20 little guests were mystified by the tasks performed by Bert Uetle of Bloomfield Hills, a magician. After the spell had worn, the children enjoyed ice cream and cake.

The Peter Robinsons of Lanigan drive have a new baby daughter, Catherine Hovey, born March 2.

Enjoying their little sister are the five Robinson children, Barry, Cindy, Timmy, Chris and Matthew.

The Arthur Staleys of Tullamore drive announce the birth of a daughter, Margaret Ann, on March 25. They have four other children, Marilyn, Kevin, Michele and Karen.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jones Chandler are living in the picturesque gate house on the Clark D. Mathew estate on East Hickory Grove road. Chandler has recently retired from Fort McAllen at Austin, Ga.

He is now with Chrysler Corp. as a chemical engineer. They have an 11-year-old daughter, Cheri, attending Hickory Grove school. The family interests center around hunting, fishing, riding and tennis. Mrs. Chandler is a graduate of the 1938 class of the College of Architecture of the University of Michigan and a graduate of Wood Belmont.

With all the world traveling she and the retired have done she has lost contact with many friends and is looking forward to the 20th anniversary of her class in June. Chandler is a graduate of Georgia Tech.

The Don Guelens of San Jose, Calif., are newcomers to East Hickory Grove road. They have two children, Terry 5, and Kathy, 3. Guelens is general agent with Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. Detroit Golf is one of the sports the family enjoys.

New residents on Spar Hill drive are the William Baldwins of Royal Oak. Baldwin is also engineer with Chemical Milling and Grinding in Pleasant Ridge. They have two children, Scott, 4, and Elizabeth, Ann, 1. Golf and gardening are on the family's hobby list.

The Lee Hubers of Far Hill drive are newcomers, moving from Minneapolis, Minn. Their children are Sandra, 11, a pupil at Harlan, John, 1, and Michael, 1. Huber is a salesman for Kroehler Furniture Manufacturers. Among the family's interests are tennis, golf and gardening.

The George Otons are new residents on Upton road, formerly of South Bend, Ind. Their children are Greg and Marjorie. Olson is branch manager of Monroe Calculating Co., Detroit. The family are boat-enthusiasts.

The chemise and the cloche hat were right in style at the Roaring 20's Dance, sponsored by the 280 club at Birmingham country club March 29.

Many joined in the charleston and the black bottom during the evening of fun. Prizes were given for the most up-to-date fashions of the roaring 20's.

Mrs. Roger Blackwood of Charnwood drive was dressed in a gown her grandmother wore in the 20's, while Blackwood dressed in a striped jacket, straw hat and cane. Mrs. David DeWitt of Tuthbury road chose a black fringe shawl and a cloche chapeau. DeWitt also wore the striped coat, cane and straw hat. Also in their party were
