Time on Your Hands? There's Plenty to Do

Volunteers Needed In Student Program

By MARY C. OLSEN

"Tree got time on my hands this summer and I don't know what to do with it," said Jane, as she flopped into a chair in my office. Then she continued, "I don't want to spend my ime just foolin 'around."
"If you could pick and choose, what would you like to do?" lasked.

Baa, Baa Black Sheep

Baa, baa, black sheep, have you any wool? Yes, sir, ves, sir, three bags full? One for my master, one for my dame, But none for the little boy who cries in the lane.

And THEN What Happened?

The Black Sheep just stood there and looked at the ttle Boy.

"Wawaid you, would you please stop crying," said the ack Sheep timidly. "You make me feel quite sad, quite d and I don't want to start crying and ruin my wool
th sally fears."
The Little Boy took his hand away from his eyes, which had been rubbing very hard and looked at the Black seen.

Do, do sheep ery?" he asked interingly course they do."
I the Black Sheep, "sheep re feelings past like ya do". In ever thought of that, it the Little Boy, "in fly oull ge me one of your three bars wood for my very own I'll defult the Black Sheep shoep deful the Boy of the Little Boy. "Now, that's more like it indeed! A smiling boy and make any about more like it, more like it indeed! A smiling boy and make any about more like it, more like it indeed! A smiling boy and make any about more like it. I would be a smile and looked grate-fully at the Little Boy.
"Now, that's more like it, more like it, more like it indeed! A smiling and to show the like it."
