Camps

a camp newspaper are their addition to the camp program.

KAY MABLEY and Linda Johnson will be putting many years of experience to use in the waterfront, teaching swimming, water-skiing and sailing.

Gabby Slater brings her enthusiasm to the waterfront, canoeing or water-ballet, as well as the tennis courts.

Some are already planning to drive and their note will take them past brother camp, Idlewild, on Lake Winnepesaukee, New Hampshire. Others will travel with the conducted party for campers from this area.

Off for New Hampshire and their 26-acre island home at Camp Idlewild Boys to be instructors and counselors are these Birmingham seniors and former graduates: Harry Altick, one of Purdue, will again head water-skiing. Fred Blockley, Hillsdale, will be found at the waterfront and participating in the annual Fourth of July ball game between counselors and campers.

JOHN BOOTHBY of Philadelphia, formerly of Birmingham, is looking forward to renewing acquaintances. His brother Stan may come for August.

After last summer in Lisbon, Pete Brink returns to his old camping ground and a White Mountain National Forest.

Dick Book, popular leader of the 1957 golf department, is ready for another busy season.

For their eleventh year, as Idlewild campers and counselors, Jim Cardell, University of Michigan sophomore, and Kent Cardell, have signed in with the canoe department. Many short trips around Lake Winnepesaukee and a 10-day trip down the Saco to Portland Harbor will keep them in contact of their sleeping bags most of the summer.

HARRY GANO, Purdue, will be at the junior rifle range to help his camper friends win their new medals in the national rifle association.

Ran Hammer, head of middle-school tennis, plans to arrive early enough to get the courts in top-notch condition.

Harry Ludwig is joining the staff to assist in golf, tennis, water-skiing, and basketball.

Don Thacker, for whom all the smallest campers are asking, will spend the summer with them at the junior waterfront.

LARRY TURNER, University of Virginia junior, was an outstanding instructor for the horsemen and has signed for 1958.

Cohn Stewart has just decided to take over junior shop. His Spanish will come in handy with the Idlewild boys from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Larry Van Tassel and perhaps Frank Mabley, plan to arrive in time to make sure their five boats are ready for the first sailing race.

Students Stomp

BLOOMINGTON, IND.—Cast in the revue, "The Beautiful Witch" at Indiana university, Kathryn Biggs (left), of Rhinecliff Hills, is seen as a dancer and as "Witch Hazel" in the 60-member cast of the recent all-student production.

"Let's all swap problems—since everyone always knows how to solve the other person's."

Sheffield Estates Renames Officers

Annual meeting of Sheffield Estates Association was held at the Hotel Sheffield, Birmingham, Tuesday, April 8. Officers for 1958 are: Charles E. Pugh, president; Don M. Smith, vice president; John W. Smith, secretary; and Miss Mary Beutler as treasurer.

Directors included in attendance were: M. R. Latham, president; M. R. Latham, vice president; M. R. Latham, secretary; and Miss Mary Beutler as treasurer.

The three candidates running for the city commission were introduced to give the members a chance to meet their elected officials before the election.

Main feature was the question and answer period in which City Manager Richard Kane and Mayor C. C. Hay from West on the answers.
