

Especially fortunate is that boy who, early in life, finds a vocation or a profession that interests him, that challenges something as yet wholly untried within. For this lad should, by abiding by the homely virtues, go far toward those goals of security, health, happiness that are the true gifts of a wise Providence.

MR. AND MRS. HUGH MAIR reminisce with their sister, Mrs. John Stewart (center) of Kilmours, Scotland.

Joyful Tears After 45 Years—Sister Arrives from Scotland

Tears were shed, but they were tears of joy when Hugh Mair met his youngest sister, Mrs. John Stewart as she arrived from Scotland by plane in Windsor.

Mr. Mair, who left Scotland in 1912, has never returned home or seen any of his family since.

Mrs. Stewart of "Tresleig" in the village of Kilmours, Ayrshire, Scotland, is the first member of the family to visit him. They have four more sisters and a brother.

Mrs. Stewart also visited with nephews, the Matthew Mairs and William Mairs in Royal Oak.

Sunday she left for West Virginia, where she will visit Mrs. James Wills, formerly of Scotland, for a week, and return to Birmingham until August 23.

At home she will share her new experiences and exciting vacation with her husband, her daughter, Mary, who is married to Sgt. Archie Paul of the traffic department of Kilmours and granddaughter, Olivia.

Blond and fair, she speaks with a warmth in her voice and a twinkle in her eye, and is continually amazed at the slimmness of our young girls.

"I only wish I was years younger, you have so many opportunities that we've never had," were her comments.

Mrs. Stewart is also overwhelmed with our supermarkets and their cleanliness, and the variety of wearing apparel.

Bermuda Party Accents Showers

Carole Lee Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Olsen of Bloomfield Hills, has set Aug. 23 as the date of her marriage to Robert Wayne Lenski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lenski of Albion.

The ceremony will take place at the Lutheran church of the Redeemer at 2:30 p.m., the Rev. Theodore Wuggazer, Jr., officiating. Reception will follow at Detroit Golf club. Mrs. John VanAlstyne III, will be Carole's matron of honor and bridesmaids will be Mrs. Joseph Hardig, Judith Smith and Lynn Griem, all of Birmingham.

MR. HARDIG will be best man and ushers will be Richard Olsen, Jr., brother of the bride; Robert Rogers and Albert Firth, all of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Freese started parties off for the couple with a "round the clock" shower and garden buffet in their Birmingham home. Sally Schlacter, Mrs. Van Alstyne and Sylvia Kordenbrock, highschool classmates of Carole, were hostesses at the Kordenbrock home in Bloomfield Hills at luncheon and miscellaneous shower for 16 guests.

MR. AND MRS. Hardig gave a cocktail party for 50 guests in their home honoring Carol and Bob. Mr. and Mrs. Orson Crocker were hosts at cocktails and a buffet supper for 30 guests in their home on Bradway boulevard.

Mrs. Charles Mayne entertained 28 at luncheon and a miscellaneous shower at her home on Lone Pine road. The W. W. Gross's had a Bermuda shorts barbecue and patio party at their home on Lakeland avenue.

MRS. J. C. Ridley of Bloomfield Hills will be hostess at a luncheon and copper kitchen shower for 32 guests today. Rehearsal dinner will be given by the bride-elect's brother, Richard Olsen, Jr., at Detroit Golf club, Aug. 22.

A Word from Alice

Just living it up! Yesterday (Aug. 6) went to the home of the American Ambassador and to an audience with the pope—what a great man! His facial lines emit so much humor and kindness. These are comments from Alice West-burglingame, our "Down to Earth" column editor. Last Tuesday, Mrs. Alfred Grann of Oakhills road and Karen Vanderlook of West Long Lake had tea with the Queen of Denmark's private secretary, Countess Sybille Rentvold, who is chairman of the Ingathering for needy children.

During Mrs. Burlingame's visit to Copenhagen, she enjoyed meeting and being entertained by Mrs. Grann and her many Danish friends.

Flying Vacationers

Flying around on their vacation in their Cessna 170 are Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, formerly of Birmingham, now living in New Brunswick, N. J. They are visiting Jim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips of E. Lincoln.

Vacations at Cottage

Interior decorator Earl Wilson of Lincoln road has returned from a three-week vacation at his cottage on the shores of Lake Erie, Ohio. Leisure hours of swimming and golfing were at the Madison Golf and Country club.

Visit with Pope

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Staub of Merritt lane, Birmingham, and daughters, Sr. M. Dolores O. P. of Flushing, N.Y., and Sr. M. Corinne O.P. of Lancaster, Ohio, returned last Wednesday on the Queen Elizabeth after a seven week tour of Europe. They visited Ireland, England, Germany, Switzerland, France and Italy. Highlights of the trip were a three-day stay at Lourdes famous Shrine and a private audience with Pope Pius XII in Rome.

Mr. and Mrs. Mularoni Honeymoon in Canada

Mary Jo Sipe and Humbert A. Mularoni were united in marriage Saturday morning in Holy Name church. The Rev. Msg. Paddock performed the eleven o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pierce Sipe of 2005 Glenhurst, Birmingham. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Humbert M. Mularoni of Clearmont road, Bloomfield Hills.

THE BRIDE wore a wedding gown with cretlet necklines of white organdy roses, matching empire bodice and cap sleeves. A princess paneled, dome-shaped skirt of white taffeta fell into a chapel train.

Her double tiered fingertip veil was held in place by an open shell cap of organdy roses to match her gown. She carried staphanotis and phalaenopsis orchids.

MRS. JAMES K. HOLDEN was matron of honor and bridesmaid. She was Mrs. E. C. Mularoni, Carol Hogeband, Marjorie Resovsky and Mrs. Jan Slagh.

The bride's attendants wore princess bodice gowns of white organdy trimmed with Swiss embroidery over yellow taffeta, which featured scooped necklines, cap sleeves and full skirts. Matching open crowned picture hats of yellow horse-hair trimmed with white flowers were worn by the attendants.

E. C. MULARONI stood as best man and seating the guests were Donald Carrier, William McGibon, James K. Holden and Jerry Mularoni.

Mother of the bride chose a mist green chiffon dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Reception was at the Kingsley Inn. The young couple are touring Canada for two weeks.

THESE SMILING FACES along with other members of Christ Child Society are calling upon Birmingham merchants and signing contracts for the fall Carnival. With Mrs. Paul Bergmoser (left), advertising chairman, is Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. Arch Stevenson and Mrs. Francis M. Anderman.

Signing Carnival Contracts

Planning for Christmas comes early in the hearts and minds of Christ Child Society members . . . when they can have displays such as those at last Wednesday's luncheon . . . when temperatures soared to the 90s.

Tables were displayed with an array of colors provided by enameled trays, stuffed animals, those frilly cocktail aprons and many other wanted items. Articles were sold on the spot and orders were taken for others. This family booth headed by Mrs. Lloyd Diehl, Jr. and co-chaired by Mrs. John Allaton is bound to be a success come Nov. 7, the date for the fall Carnival at the Latin Quarters.

INITIAL plans for the carnival were outlined at the kick-off luncheon at Birmingham Country club at which time the Birmingham unit of Christ Child Society entertained members from Detroit and Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Harold E. Mountain, Jr., Birmingham president, will act as chairman of the fall venture, with Mrs. James Schmidt as her co-chairman.

CONCENTRATED efforts for the next few months will be on advertising. Eager members . . . with smiling faces . . . will be calling upon Birmingham merchants, soliciting ads for Christ Child programs. These programs are distributed at the Carnival as a means of information concerning the society's projects.

Funds from the carnival maintain Christ Child House at Joy road and Greenfield, a temporary shelter for children, regardless of race, religion or creed . . . and a project so dear to CC members.

FOR THOSE early birds who

Invitations Going Out

Several thousand letters on Mrs. Norman J. Fredericks' personal monogrammed note paper have gone out to members and alumnae of the Religious of the Sacred Heart inviting them to be patrons at the fall fashion show. Working with Mrs. Fredericks (left) is Mrs. Clyde P. Craine, Jr., Mrs. Morgan B. Lawton and Mrs. Hanley Dawson, Jr., along with many others. Mrs. Everett Fisher is general chairman of the Oct. 1 party, which will feature original designs by Ruth Joyce and Furs by Roberts. Tentative plans call for an outdoor rustic setting on the grounds of the new school on Kensington road, Bloomfield Hills.
