Celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary this past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wink of N. Williamsbury road. Friday night they dined and danced at the Boulder Hall with their children. Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Cronin of Half Moon drive, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wink of Old Mill road and Mr. and Mrs. William Wink Jr. of Detroit. Sunday they were pleasantly surprised when many friends came to call on them.

Guests of Emmett Feely of Overhill road for a few days are his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Feely Jr. of Detroit and their daughter, Colleen Mary.

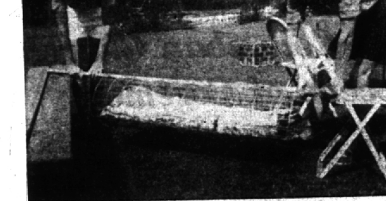

Colleen was christened Sunday by Monsignor Breitenbeck in St. Cecilia's church in Detroit, wearing the christening dress worn by her mother and three aunts.

Afterwards the families gathered at the Feely home to celebrate with a cocktail party and buffet supper on the patio.

Lt. Thomas Feely, Feely's other son, who is stationed at Ft. Leno, Va., came for the occasion to be the baby's godfather. Geri Martin, sister of the baby's mother, is the godmother.

Mrs. Charles Martin, the baby's maternal grandmother was a guest also, as well as close friends from Birmingham and Detroit.

Colleen is Feely's first grandchild.

MRS. HUGH STOEFFY and Mrs. Judson Decker struggle with a huge rack of beef, which was the main course at a barbecue they held with neighbors recently. See page 3-D for the story.

PEGGY Ann Hampson, recent graduate of Denison university in Granville, Ohio is spending a relaxing summer.

She and her roommate, Ann Allison of Columbus, Ohio, spent 10 days at Gavel House in the Muskoka Lakes district of Ontario and will return again this summer.

Peggy also visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wagner, for a couple of weeks in West Peabody, Mass.

Her vacations were rewarded for a job well done. PEGGY earned her BA in psychology and was initiated into Psi Chi, Denison chapter, national honorary society of Psychology. Her plans for this fall are indefinite.

Peggy is the daughter of the John C. Hampsons of Cranbrook road. They have their 10-year-old niece, Carol Frances Wagner from Massachusetts, visiting with them this summer.

Orientation at Miami university in Oxford, Ohio was attended by the Murray E. Stewart family of Waddington road recently. They all enjoyed staying in the dormitories, eating typical college meals, meeting with the deans and visiting in the classes daughter, Nancy, will attend this fall.

While on the trip they also visited friends in Wyoming, Ohio, a suburb of Cincinnati in which they had lived.

Nancy and Susan Judd, daughters of the J. P. Judds of N. Cleary road are spending the month of August at Lost Trail Camp, Sula, Mont.

N. Williamsbury road spent a recent weekend at Portage Lake as guests of the Howard Lindors of Birmingham in their summer home.

Their son, John, will take Bill Roberts, son of the Franklin Roberts of Hamilton road, and join his sister, Mary, at her grandparents' home on Spring Lake near Grand Haven. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jacobson for a week, before John goes on to Camp Michawana near Hastings, Michigan and Bill and Mary return home.

Neighbors on Hamilton road gathered Saturday night in the back yard of the Omer Pettit home for a cook-out. Hamburgers and roasted corn were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shanklin and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Malesky and family and the Pettit and their four children.

Recent weekend guests of Mr.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Miles of N. Cleary road have just returned from a summer meeting of the National Mobile Homes Manufacturer's association in Denver, Colo.

While there, they toured the state, visiting Estes Park, Boulder, Greeley and the other main cities of Colorado.

Miles went on to Alabama to visit his company's new factory and contract with the Birmingham school system to teach in the high school this fall.

Their daughter, Sue, is in town again after doing graduate work at Michigan State university, where she obtained her BA degree in June.

A member of Kapita Delta, Sue majored in English and has signed a contract with the Birmingham school system to teach in the high school this fall.

The John P. Richardsons of

'Look What I Caught'

In the net is a real goldfish for four-year-old Julie Richardson of Bloomfield village to take home. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Richardson, Julie took part in the children's games recently at Meadowbrook Country club. The goldfish were turned loose in the children's wading pool and the eager youngsters tried to scoop them up.
