Aboard Holiday House

Aboard the "Bermuda Holiday House" cruise ship Duchess are (from left) Helen Gach, Beth Uhrie, Bette Cahill and Sue Gurry. The all-day cruise among the British Colony's many islands has been one of the highlights of their vacation. While in Bermuda, the four teachers from the Pembroke school are staying at the St. George hotel in St. George's Parish.

Our first hours in Amsterdam were unforgetable, especially the evening boat trip around the city by way of the canals. One of the three floating gardens in the world is here. The bridge made entirely of lights (not for traffic) gave it a final touch of fairyland.

The fact of the fairyland of the fairyland of the fairyland of the fairyland family, the Raimond Schleichers. I can't till you how wonderful family, the Raimond Schleichers. I can't till you how wonderful the fair the fair of the fair o heese, eggs and detectous sweet in Bonn we were given a reception by the lord mayor in the morning and then followed the usual wo-hour rehearsal. Our ride down hee Rhine was indescribable—one our and a half down to the Seven tills. The view from the highest lill was one of the few when grey ould see the famous Koin Cathernal 30 miles away.

AFTER TOURING Beethoven's nome we had rehearsal in the Be-thoven gymnasium (gram mar-school). I still wonder about all his manuscripts in his residence— so illegible. I sincerely doubt that we in 1958 are playing what he intended. ed. six-hour trip to the Eifel
