

Kingswood Column

The last weekend before Kingswood's Christmas vacation was a busy one. The Kingswood basketball team played its first game of the season at Waterford high school on Friday, December 12. The varsity team played a tense game against their closely-matched opponents, ending by being defeated 23-22 after playing overtime. The reserve team was victorious by a margin of thirteen points.

On Friday night Kingswood was invited to the first skating party at the Cranbrook rink. In the below-zero weather many skaters welcomed the opportunity to buy refreshments and sit by the fire in Cranbrook's senior cabin after skating.

The student cabinet held its Christmas party for retarded children at two o'clock on Saturday in the Kingswood auditorium. The children came from a school in Madison Heights. Besides receiving toys put together by Cranbrook boys, the children were given dolls dressed by Kingswood students. In assembly on Friday, December 12, the winners of the doll-dressing contest were announced. In first place were Gail Rogers and Peggy Godard, and honorable mentions were given to Jane Lomason and Ginny Budd.

Saturday night was a big night for the sophomores, who sponsored their dance, "Swiss Chalet". In the gymnasium and provided an evening of fun for all from eight to eleven o'clock. The entire room was decorated to look like the inside of a chalet, complete with a fireplace at one wall and ski poles hanging crossed on another. The refreshments of punch and cookies were served in the dance studio throughout the evening. The music furnished by records provided the chance for everyone to hear the music he liked. Miss E. Bennett and Miss V. Robb were hostesses for the party, and the Cranbrook faculty guests were Mr. and Mrs. Coulter and Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

The Christmas spirit was exhibited with much enthusiasm early Sunday morning by the dormitory council when they awakened all of the resident students. The girls found their doors and a special breakfast awaiting them downstairs. After breakfast in the rose lounge Miss Seifert played Christmas songs on the piano for a group of enthusiastic singers.

The student cabinet sponsored a field trip to go to a service at Kirk in the Hills. They provide many field trips to different churches throughout the year to give the girls the opportunity to learn about and experience different types of worship.

At seven o'clock on Sunday night the glee clubs of Kingswood and Cranbrook sang the "Messiah" in Kingswood's auditorium. Miss Seifert accompanied on the piano while Mr. Robert Bates played the Organ and also directed. This program ended the exciting week-end with a note of solemnity.

The seventh and eighth grades gave their contribution to Christmas music in assembly on Tuesday, December 16. They sang Christmas carols in their original languages, which was quite an undertaking. There were also several instrumental ensembles to complete the program.

Students Help Make Christmas Merry

Wing Lake students are taking Christmas seriously. Again this year, as in the past, they are packing baskets for needy families. A total of 20 children will receive holiday items from the students. Filling the baskets are Sam Gillette, second grader; David Hawkes, sixth grader; Mrs. Geneva Forslund, Wing Lake principal; Suzanne Johnson, sixth grader and Ann Long, third grader. Eastover pupils are sending baskets to two families. They are also preparing gifts with Vaughan students to send to the juvenile home. Hickory Grove youngsters are collecting money for CARE packages; Pine Lake children are saving money and purchasing gifts for sons and daughters of crewmen in the Rogers City disaster. Bloomfield Hills junior high students are packing Christmas baskets for the Salvation Army.

Lancers Take Brighton JHS Cagers, 34-12

By CHRIS GRAYSON

The Lancers were victorious in their first basketball game over Clarkston, Wednesday, Dec. 10. The score rolled up to Lancers 34 and Clarkston 12.

One unfortunate problem occurred when a great crowd of Bloomfield spectators stayed after school for the game only to hear that Clarkston had made a mistake thinking that the game was scheduled at 7 p.m. This was disappointing.

Noon on Wednesday saw the girls depart from the school for a three-week vacation, which will end when classes resume on Wednesday, January 7.

ing since some could not return that evening.

We still had a good crowd which yelled with cheerleaders Lynn Ivey, Karen MacAlpine, Kay Lewis, Kris Forester, Lynn Schmanaky, and Marcee Merrill.

The second edition of the school newspaper came out on Dec. 10. A contest had been run for naming the paper: Kathy Peterson won this contest with her suggestion as The Sentinel. Her reward was a free subscription to the newspaper.

Those who help to write the newspaper are Lynn Ivey, Kris Forester, Art Tregeuen, Kathie Moon, Hugh Diamond, John Scheweppe, Roger Wotila, Mike Kirchberg, Ann Mellon, Bob Stroussner, Claire Perlman, Lois Saylor, Candy Turschiff, Sue Hertzler, Judy Han, Lew Renka, Mattie Peterson, Marcia Rider, Bette Joines, Barbara Grovogl, Bonnie Grovogl, Neil Annalidino, and Pam Waggoner. A meeting was held Friday, Dec. 12, 3rd hr. for these people to begin work on the next issue.

The ninth grade play "Three Fingers in the Door," a comedy-mystery, was presented last Dec. 12 in the evening. It was presented Dec. 11, 2nd hr. for the seventh and eighth graders.

The play cast consists of Jeff Conde, Pam Walker, Val Hart, Pat Christiansen, Kathy Mitchell, Marcee Merrill, Barb Spies, Jim Scott, Steve DeOrto, Dennis Laughlin, and Tim Morton. The teachers assisting are Mr. S. Smith, Mr. Hoxsie, Mr. Oglesby, Mr. Drummond, and Miss Gunther.

Chess enthusiasts are joining the chess club. The club meets after school every Wednesday. If you are interested, contact either Tom Forester, president or Roger Altman, secretary-treasurer.

All students are being encouraged to give any old clothes or toys and so on to a collection of such which will later be given to some less fortunate family. All offerings are to be taken to Mr. Smith's homeroom.

Q. E. D.

"quad erat demonstrandum"
(Which was to be shown)

Well, it was "Q.E.D." on the last two weekends on the patio at our shop. Mrs. Frank (Anna Belle) Webb showed hundreds of women and a few other "things" how to make interesting, intriguing, beautiful, simple and useful and enduring Christmas decorations.

If you were not present, we are sorry. If you need wire snips, picks, pins, rings, poultry netting, paint, hardware cloth, flora-tape, sphagnum moss, small fruits, beads, etc., there are a few things left. We also have some beautiful holly, boxwood, round-needle balsam, white pine sprays, scotch pine, and (maybe) some podocarpus and pittosporum. (If Bany, Parmenter, Birmingham Flowers, Bell or Moss think these are spelled wrong—or if we are sold out, go to them.)

We are not in the greens business. Our greens were available primarily for use in the Q.E.D.'s above.

Do not be misled by the above! Our business is to provide things you may need or (if we are lucky) want even if you don't need them.

Here are a few things in these two Categories—

RAIN GAUGE—A scientific device that will tell a man how much rain fell while he was asleep, fishing, dancing, or filling the bird feeding devices.

ANGELS—Well, angels are angels—even in plastic or carved wood. They can grace the table motif or mantle or make a child very happy.

NUTS & CONES—The "Wood Pretties" from the back woods of the Carolinas (a project of the French River Garden Club) present completed exquisite wreaths, garlands, candle arrangements and kissing balls. (The latter intrigues us.)

CARBONE—An extraordinary importer has provided us (and, we hope, you) an exquisite China Christmas Tree about ten inches tall, a couple of terra-cotta pots for the terrace (light color) and some 4 & 6 tile terrace tables (alliteration at its best).

TREE ORNAMENTS—Have no idea how to describe these "Angels in Domes", Christmas Tree finials, birds in cat-gut balls and dar—uh, cute Swedish carved birds.

BASKETS—Nuff said. (But good!)

COMPOTES—Lovely "Ma Leck" designs to be used with greens, artificial fruits, or even nuts—and healthy, wide-awake fruits, such as cumquats and ordinaries.

There are many more things to mention, but we can't afford it—so we just want to thank you for all you have done for us and to give you advance notice, that—

WE WILL BE CLOSED DECEMBER 26th.
