Young Citizens Vote

Bloomfield Hills junior high school students went to the polls last week to name new class officers. And they were official about it, too. Seventh, eighth and ninth graders registered, received voting cards good for one year and stepped up to the voting machine to cast their ballots. Candidates were required to petition and campaign for the class offices. While Mike Kirshberg checks registrations, Tom Boyer illustrates the voting machine procedure to Art Tregenzar. The new class officers for BHJHS are ninth graders, Jim Scott, president; Pam Walker, vice president; Kathie Moon, secretary, and Bob Stresenreuter, treasurer. Eighth grade heads are Tom Boyer, Andy Moran, Cindy Harry and Virginia van Dyk. Seventh grade leaders are Marc Miller, Amy Jo Comins, Judy Raskins and Bruce Perkins.

Three-fifths of the dried prunes exported by the United States in 1957 went to European markets, chiefly England.

Capt. Raoul Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, was the first to navigate the Northwest Passage in 1906.

The historic "livery companies" of London, England, were so called because of their lively uniforms, or liveries.
