

Cooks Give Yule Gift to Teachers

A new custom was inaugurated last week. The cooks treated teachers and principals to breakfast in the ten Birmingham schools that have cafeterias. At Franklin school, teachers arrived at 8 a.m. for their Christmas goodwill breakfast from the cafeteria staff, head cook Mrs. Amelia Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Gentle and Mrs. Dale Tillotson. Enjoying the party are (from left toward camera) Principal Dan Welch, teachers Jean C. Gardiner and Edward L. Pokornowski, and Mrs. Rae Mowers, school nurse. At left (back to camera) is custodian Jim Bowden. The idea, inaugurated by Assistant School Superintendent Norman Wolfe, is to give cafeteria staffs a way to thank principals and teachers for their cooperation during the school year.

Surprise! Mail
All Caught Up
Birmingham Postmaster Rolfe Reese had a pleasant surprise Monday.
Instead of stacks and stacks of Christmas mail and packages, an experienced mail carrier and mail handlers had cleared away nearly all mail by 1 p.m.
Aid to top 6 of Reese believes the volume peak has passed. He's not expecting a last-minute rush.

Christmas Trees
The Birmingham Department of Public Works will begin its annual Christmas tree pickup, Dec. 23. The trees will be picked up along the regular routes until Jan. 2.

THE OLD TIMER
Doesn't seem like it—these old timers for Birmingham came they're going around in circles.

WHY?
Do We Say "Hello" and "Goodbye?"
Once we greeted only important persons of the community—the chief, land, priest or squire—with a highly respectful "Hail to you!" When we began the custom of greeting each other frequently, we uttered and shortened the salutation to "hello."
When someone left us we said, "Go With God," or "God be with you." This last to converse usage became Gody byrlye then "good-bye."
Spanish and French still commend their friends to God on parting with adios and adieu.
