Paintings At Art Exhibit

Mrs. Florence Morris of the Park Gallery and George Roper, director of City and Country school, Bloomfield Hills, look over an oil painting by Detroit's Gerald Tenenbaum. The artist's work will be part of a display at an Art Exhibit at the school on Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. Proceeds will be used by the school, non-profit organization, for educational projects for the school's gifted children. The exhibition is open to the public and will feature paintings, jewelry, ceramics, etchings, woodcuts and prints for sale. Refreshments will be served. During the afternoon, Artes Lane will paint portraits on request and Peter Jepson will do caricatures.

People's Column

Bagwell Thanks Local Voters

To the Editor:
I would like the opportunity, through the public letter box, to thank all those who worked in my behalf and who voted for me in the past election.
While I would have liked the opportunity to show our citizens what I could accomplish as governor of this great state, I am grateful for the experiences of the campaign and the friendly reception given my wife and me wherever we went. I thought it was a good campaign which focused attention on some of the major problems facing our state. If, as a result, wise and constructive action is taken to meet those problems, I will feel that the public interest was well served.

THIS IS THE great function of political parties in our free society—to discuss programs and offer constructive solutions. Once the people have made their decision, we all abide by it and work together for the common good of the state. To all those who worked for me and voted for me, I can express only my heartfelt gratitude. Personally, I feel richly rewarded by your friendship and expression of confidence.
