Troth of Peggy Davis Told At Family Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gordon Davis of Buckingham road, Birmingham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Jayne (Peggy), to Thomas Pivrotto of Pasadena, Calif.

The announcement was made, after receiving a long-distance telephone call from the young couple, at the family Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Peggy's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown, Sr., of Lathrup Village.

Peggy was graduated from the University of Michigan in June and is now teaching in Anaheim, Calif.

Her fiancé was graduated from Purdue, received his master's at the University of Michigan this year, and is on the staff of the jet propulsion laboratory of the California Institute of Technology. The bride-elect will be home for

Rev. and Mrs. Morgan To Live in Washington

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph de Bruyn announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann Neff, to the Reverend S. Neale Morgan at Christ Church Georgetown on Saturday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John R. Anschutz, rector of the church, of which Mr. Morgan is assistant rector.

Miss Neff is the daughter also of the late Arthur G. Neff. Rev. Morgan is the son of Mrs. Josephine P. Morgan of Kittanning, Pa., and of Dwight C. Morgan, Jr., of Van Nuys, Calif.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Lt. Comdr. Theodore Wagner, Jr. She wore a white tulle dress in the empire style with beaded chantilly lace encircling its bateau neckline. Her veil of illusion fell from a tulle band with matching chantilly lace leaves caught on each side. She carried a prayerbook with a spray of lavender.

MARJORIE Gould Lincoln was maid of honor and Mrs. William C. Parker was matron of honor. Both wore emerald and sapphire dresses, fashioned along empire lines, and carried old fashioned bouquets of violets.

Ushers were Benjamin O. Hills, Walter D. McVicker, Captain William C. Parker, John W. Wyant and Hugh M. Hutchinson. Rev. Morgan's brother-in-law, Thomas J. Cox, was best man.
