

From time to time you read in publications, or see on TV, persons who have, in war or in peace, performed great acts of physical and moral heroism. These men and women (often youth, too) come from ordinary stations in human society. Many of them, prior to their heroic acts, have never shown any specific heroic characteristics. But in the hour of decision, they were brave!

MRS. ARNOLD E. BROWN

Thomas Jackson Married in N.Y.

At a candlelight ceremony in the Methodist church of Farmingdale, N. Y., Lorraine Jaisle became the bride of Thomas R. Jackson. The rites were read by the Rev. Allen Judd.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Jaisle of Farmingdale and Mr. and Mrs. J.

P. Jackson of Maple road, Birmingham.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of crystal white tulle with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her finger-ring veil fell from a princess cap of lace. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Mrs. Charles Nelson, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore emerald green velvet with full ballerina length skirt and carried red roses.

IN IDENTICAL frocks were bridesmaids Betty Bramer and Mrs. Robert Rice. They carried pink roses.

Robert Jackson was his brother's best man. Ushers were James Jackson and Richard Jaisle.

After a honeymoon to Aspen, Colo., the couple will reside in Allen Park.

Looking for a pet for the children? See the Classified columns under "Pets for Sale."

Browns Honeymoon In Pocono Mountains

A gown of white Italian cupioni with a full gathered bodice and a scoop neckline edged in lace was worn by Roberta Jean Connor for her marriage to Arnold Eugene Brown Saturday. The Rev. Allen Wittrup officiated at the doubling candlelight rites in the First Methodist church.

The full, floor length skirt had inserts of chantilly lace shaped in a lover's knot and trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. Her fingertip illusion veil was fastened to a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. On her white Bible she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Connor of Westwood drive, Birmingham. Arnold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Brown of Kalamazoo.

ATTENDING Roberta as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Frank C. Beach in emerald green tulle with a scooped neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her pillbox hat was of matching emerald green and she carried a cascade of daisy mums.

In identical gowns were bridesmaids Patricia Fritz and Mrs. Charles F. Brown.

Flower girl, Amy Lynn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, wore white tulle and carried a miniature bouquet like that of the maids.

CHARLES F. Brown was his brother's best man. Ushers were Louis Stolle, Paul Gieser, Clarke Bertrand and Frank Beach.

Mrs. Connor selected a royal blue beghaline sheath dress and a white jeweled hat and Mrs. Brown chose lavender rose lace over matching rose tulle. Both had corsages of white roses.

After a wedding trip to the Pocono mountains in Pennsylvania the couple will make their home in Milwaukee, Wis.
