Pint-sized keepers grappled with the snow where they have managed an occasional strike as part of the party fun that marked the eighth birthday of Thursday.

Whisked off to the bowling alley, Johnny's seven-year-old and grade guests gave the pin-setters a work out and returned to his Willowgreen road home for the customary cake 'n' ice cream.

The Richard Kerns with Kerry and Rickie, returned Friday from five days of skiing at Okech. Rickie distinguished himself on the slopes by copping second place in the baby class contests held that week.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hampton headed for Orango for a few days holiday in the snow powdered hills.

Proving that some like it hot, or at least warmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steyskal of Ten Hill drive spent three weeks in Florida, out of which they report one "good week," where lolling on the beach at Fort Lauderdale, Daytona and Pompano was pleasant. They also found warmth in visiting friends in the area and sightseeing with a few shows thrown in for good measure.

Stay-at-home fun was meted out at the Stan Fay home on Franklin road, Saturday night. High school senior daughter, Janet, planned a small party for several couples from her class who blossomed into a full-blown social event as nearly 40 seniors arrived.

American Field Service exchange student, Yukinobu Nomura of Japan, who is spending this year at Birmingham High school, was a Sunday dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webster.

Yuki addressed Mrs. Webster's Sunday school class earlier and was on hand to give an oriental blessing to Ronnie Webster's 10th birthday, celebrated by the family later that day.

"It was worth it, the skiing was wonderful," says Mrs. Von Pohl, who recounted the harrowing experience she and her husband had last week as they sought to have a family reunion at Alta, Utah. With daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cops of Denver, the Pohl family encountered storms and blizzards on their way to the Peruvian lodge. Avalanches and landslides blocked trails for days, trapped workers, broke down machinery and communications that had them stranded.

Engineers were in the area "shooting" the mountainsides in an attempt to prevent slides across highways, only in some cases the "shooting" was misinterpreted and additional avalanches resulted. "We were lucky not to have our ear," said Mrs. Pohl, "at least we could walk over the high snow drifts and our luggage was transported by a garbage truck, before it broke down too."

Joining the family at Alta was Wisconsin freshman daughter, Sue, who spent her mid-term holiday skiing with her family.

Temperatures were often in the fifties during the day and slopes had a 100 inch base.

Slides to be Shown At Circle Meeting

FRANKLIN—Franklin Community association members will start their Feb. 20 meeting off with the traditional smorgasbord dinner. Starting at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall, the dinner will precede an important discussion regarding the future of the fire-ravaged hall on Franklin road.

Members will be asked to vote on a proposal to sell the property and what remains of the building, which burned Jan. 27. President Orville Ellis said, "We're still waiting to learn the full extent of the damage from the insurance people, but since we have been talking about eventually building a new community hall, this would seem the time to dispose of the property and find a better location."

Also on the agenda will be a selection of favorite melodies rendered by a barbershop quartet.
