

There have lived scores of millions of men and women (and today there are many more) whose personal lives are worthy of recording on the better pages of mankind's history—but they never got there. Most history personalities have been those who noted their names loudly... about some of them, rightly or wrongly, had to do so for the cause they defended. But unnamed doesn't mean unfamed in G.D.'s records.

The Birmingham Eccentric

BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN

Thursday, February 20, 1958

SECTION
B

Cotillion Members Dance at 'Sweet-Heart Swing'

Arriving at Dance

Bloomfield Country club was accented with red and white Valentines bearing the names of dating couples attending the

"Sweet-Heart Swing." With Chip Wilson is her date Tom McGuane (right) Bill Colby of Cranbrook and his date Mandy Matthews.

In Receiving Line

Greeting guests at the entrance of the ballroom decorated in red and white streamers were (from left) Bob Thom, Sue Fead and Tony Council. Heading up the receiving line were Sherry Marker, Lou Potter and Sherry Gately.

Hep to the Jive!

Among the belles at the ball was Cindy Trisler in a red tulle frock accented by a harmon. hemline with her date, Dix Humphrey, Jr., both Birmingham high students.

Suburban Scene

by
Fran Maier
Society Editor

Hearts and Flowers

Every girl was somebody's Valentine Friday night at Bloomfield Hills Country club... Cotillion members and their dates... as they gathered for the "Sweet-Heart Swing."

The girls could truly be classed as "hearts and flowers" as they were beautifully gowned in sheaths, belle-shaped, princess styles, bouffants, in every color and every material ranging from organdies and tulle to velvets... along with a dainty corsage pinned to each frock.

Momentos

As guests entered the stairway to the ballroom an array of red and white valentines bearing the inscriptions of dating couples set a warm atmosphere and served as momentos as they departed.

These decorations were the ingenious creations of Chip Wilson and her committee, Jinny Cross, Sarah Bartholomew, Carol Klenke, Sherry Gately and Val French.

They Received

Mrs. Ernst F. Kern and Mrs. E. E. Wilson assisted in greeting the guests, all high school students, representing Kingswood, Cranbrook, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, University of Detroit, Immaculate, Detroit and Bloomfield Country Day, Sacred Heart Convent and the Shrine.

In the receiving line were Sherry Marker and Lou Potter, Sherry Gately and Tony Council and Sue Fead and Bob Thom.

One of the first and special guests welcomed was Florence S. Young, who added a touch of color in her red satin and chiffon gown, accented by a white gardenia corsage.

Snack Bar a Big Hit

After the receiving line, the ballroom was a gay whirl of dancing, including statue and exchange dances. Aside from the dancing, one of the biggest hits of the evening was the new idea in refreshments... a snack bar... gaily decorated in hearts and frilly lace. Located at the east end of the ballroom... out of way, but not out of sight... the bar held all the makings of banana splits and sundae on a do-it-yourself basis.

Sidelights

During intermission for the Ralph Bowen orchestra—Tony Council, Sherry Gately's date, played such numbers as "Tenderly" and "Begin the Beguine" and cut loose with a few Boogie Woogie numbers.

Along with this added attraction was a litterbug contest for which Janie Wilson and her date, Rick Otto were runners-up. Janie was more lovely than usual in her blue bell-shaped tulle.

Dating Couples

Other party goers in couples, two-somes, three-somes and even four-somes included Chip Wilson in a champagne organdy with Tom McGuane and Chip's cousin, Mandy Matthews in a lavish royal blue with a green satin cummerbund and matching slippers. Her date was Bill Colby of Cranbrook.

(See SUBURBAN SCENE, Page 2-B)

'Tasters' Test Recipes For Jr. League Cookbook

The oohs! ahs! and umms! were not set to music but they expressed a note of approval from Junior League tasters as they sat down to a dainty lunch Friday at the Glegary home of Mrs. James A. Morton.

Eight different dishes... Chinese stuffed mushrooms, crab meat soup, raisin sauce, meringue fudge drops, mocha schaum torte, orange nut bread, chicken almondine and chicken loaf supreme... were among those being tested for the Junior League Cookbook.

BESIDES RECIPES submitted by club members, Junior League gourmets had to choose a winning recipe from those submitted by the various women's clubs. The contest was sponsored by the cookbook committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. Gordon Miller.

Winning recipe was The Chinese Stuffed Mushrooms submitted by Mrs. Cleveland Wolcott of the League of Women Voters. All recipes submitted, however, will appear in the cookbook.

Among them will be recipes from celebrities such as Mamie Eisenhower, Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, Mrs. Philip Hart and Clare Boothe Luce's favorite Caesar salad.

THE BOOK, plates, platters and other such matters, will be sold at the Junior League Country Fair in June. Proceeds will go to the children's art program to be sponsored

Dainty Luncheon

Eight different dishes and each was sampled for the "testing" portion of the Junior League cookbook contest. Besides recipes submitted by League members and various Women's organizations, the book will contain some from national known celebrities. Mrs. R. Gordon Miller, cookbook chairman, serves Mrs. James Morton (seated) small portions of each dish.

Foreign Students Will Entertain University Alums

"The World in Your Living Room" is the title of the talk to be given by Dr. James M. Davis to the Alumnae of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Davis, director of the U of M's International Center, assumed in 1954, the responsibility of serving as advisor and personal counselor to a large body of foreign students.

Four of these students will accompany Dr. Davis to illustrate native dances and costumes.

Mrs. Sylvester Leahy of Hupp Cross road will be hostess to the group Thursday, Feb. 27. Her assistants, headed by Mrs. N. D. Ains, Mrs. G. C. Christensen and Mrs. William Shultz.

IN CONJUNCTION with the program in international understanding, the alumnae have sponsored what they call "Operation Friendship," the name given to the visitations of foreign students in Birmingham and surrounding areas.

Since September two groups of students have come from Ann Arbor representing England, France, Iran, Iraq, Korea, Czechoslovakia, Pakistan, Honduras, Belgium, Japan and Venezuela.

Mrs. Norris Host is responsible for the arrangements made between Ann Arbor and the homes which the students visit. Aiding her in the project is Mrs. Fred Henry, Mrs. Frank Wickham and Mrs. William Parsons.

Membership Tea For Woman's Club

Mrs. Ralph Main, president of Birmingham Woman's club, and Mrs. Charles W. Hester will entertain at a membership tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday at 1819 Fairview.

Assisting with pouring will be the chairman of various departments. Mrs. Hans Schjolin, Mrs. Thomas Hurns, Mrs. C. F. Butters, Mrs. Melbourn Appel, Mrs. Paul Annett and Mrs. Irwin Weiss.

Artistry To Keynote Arrangements

Mrs. Clinton Dilsdorf will have a wealth of flower arranging artistry for her audience when she speaks to Birmingham branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association Tuesday. The 1:30 p.m. meeting will be at the Community House.

Mrs. Dilsdorf will make and discuss her arrangements with ideas of "ways to do it yourself" using as her theme "Floral Introduction to Spring."

Chairman of the day will be Mrs. Herbert G. Wood. Hospitality chairman Mrs. William J. Bird, will be assisted by Mrs. Jennings Hammer, Mrs. Algie Hendrix and Mrs. Harvey Bushnell.

Helping the tea chairman, Mrs. Walter Frederick, will be Mrs. J. A. Ackerman, Mrs. Charles Davidson, Mrs. Fred Harley, Mrs. R. S. Plozier, Mrs. R. E. McDonald and Mrs. W. G. O'Rourke.

Flower arrangements for the tea will be done by Mrs. Hobart Anderson and pourers are Mrs. George Chesley and Mrs. Nelson Miles.

Tuesday Tea Launched Pre-Wedding Parties

Storms, sleet, drifts, nor sub-zero weather kept Kathryn Anne Wilson's grandmother, Mrs. Howard Emmons of South Bend, Ind., from attending the tea Tuesday which launched pre-wedding festivities.

Mrs. Leroy E. Kiefer entertained for Kitty Anne at her home at 1011 Willow lane. The guests, who were invited from as far away as Chicago, as well as Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Birmingham and the Hills were asked to bring a favorite recipe to add to the bride's file.

THE RECIPE file box Mrs. Kiefer had awaiting these was decorated with a miniature skirt of eggs, a wooden rolling pin and a minute cook book. No particular significance was to be attached to these, she said.

Color scheme for the party was yellow and white—white corsage for the honored guest, white Belgian linen and lace cloth, yellow acacia and white carnations on the table, yellow candy roses on the tea cakes and bowls of yellow roses about the house.

KITTY ANNE was graduated from the University of Michigan

NEW DEADLINE
FOR SOCIETY COPY
IS NOON TUESDAY

On Tropical Holiday

EAST BEVERLY couple, the Harmon Colea (left) of Beverly road, are among 30 couples vacationing at the Lighthouse club on Andros Island, Bahamas, along with Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Witbeck of Cranbrook road.