Modern Design in Gardens

Michigan Nurserymen met at the Fort Shelby hotel recently to talk over their mutual interests. The program when, especially at the end of my attention was an evaluation of the "Tommy Church school" of modern garden design. Church is a garden design as Frank Lloyd Wright is to buildings.

Last Spring this writer went out to the West coast for the specific purpose of studying examples of this fine expression of garden design. Church's gardens have interesting walks around the circumference of the rear property. Geometric designs are expressed by holly hedges (which lend privacy) as well as in the planting beds of well selected ground cover.

"Basy flower beds" are not trees, shrubs, and perennials are used to express a line. Redwood boxes, generous in size, are eye catchers with an ornamental tree forming the vertical line in the box. The texture of the architecture used on the garden path is an important consideration.

Guest Preacher To Tell of Fight Against Cancer

A minister who has written a book expressing a faith based upon his experiences in a personal fight against cancer will be guest preacher Sunday at Christ Church Cranbrook.

The Rev. Brian Hession, an ordained minister of the Church of England and a publisher of religious films, will preach at both services.

Mr. Hession is currently engaged in bringing a message of hope and faith to others, and in the formation of a "Cancer Anonymous" group in Britain.

His book, "Determined to Live," will be available at the church's table Sunday.

Book Week Chairman

Mrs. Helen Demsey, 1150 Fairway drive, Birmingham, is book chairman of the Feb. 16 to 22 celebration of National Catholic book week. Local parish schools, libraries and other organizations are participating in the week through book fairs, displays and talks.

Medical Mirror

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Sleep • Brain Shrinkage • Fainting

Q. Can a person die from lack of sleep?

A. Yes, but just how long a person can go without sleep isn't known. Human "guinea pigs" have stayed awake for 100 days or more. They were not harmed physically but they slowed up mentally after about 30 to 40 hours of wakefulness. The ability to go without sleep must vary a great deal, some people might be affected after a day or so and another stay awake for days on end.

Q. Does the brain shrink as we get older?

A. Yes, a little bit. From birth to about 25 years the brain usually increases in weight. After about 30 it gradually loses a little weight.

Q. What happens when a person faints from fright?

A. When we are frightened, our body automatically gets ready for fight or flight. Extra blood is shunted from surface vessels and brain arteries to the muscles. To keep the blood pressure up the surface vessels and brain arteries contract. In fainting, something prevents contraction of these vessels. Blood pressure falls, especially in the brain. The person feels lightheaded, turns white as a ghost and topples over in a faint. Other things besides fright cause fainting. People who have frequent fainting spells should consult a doctor.

Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by up the surface vessels and brain arteries personally attending the patient.

Original Verse

Observes Feb. 12

To the Editor:

February 12 happens to be my birthday and I am enclosing a bit of verse I have written.

My many friends who are a bit sceptical of The Eclectic enjoyed so much the verse I had written and your paper printed it. "A Fond Farewell to Elm Trees" that I thought thy may enjoy this time. Wishing your paper, or I should say your paper, every success in the future.

HIS BIRTHDAY AND MINE

We are celebrating at our home for Mr. & Mrs. Lillian's birthday and mine.

I have always felt quite important to be born at this special time. Of course, there will be no great party.

And no big cake upon the shelf. For if there is a birthday cake.

What widows can tell you about Wills...

Of all the tragic lessons widows have learned, probably the most important is this—

If the husband does not leave a Will, his widow may receive only a fraction, sometimes as little as one-third, of the estate he really intends for her.

In many cases like this, the widow is left with scarcely any security at all—even though her husband meant to leave her well provided for.

Is this what you want to happen? If not, see a lawyer and make your Will soon. Choose the executor with special care. For the executor must be experienced, financially responsible, and, of course, living, and a leg resident of Michigan when your Will is probated. These qualifications are assured when The Detroit Bank and Trust Company is named executor. And our fee is no more than the law allows an individual executor. For more details, call us any time. No obligation.

Free Our 16-page booklet "Why a Will?" answers many questions you may have. Call WO 2-5670 for a copy, or send a postcard.
