Fraternity Pledges

Taking a break before fraternity initiation at the University of Michigan were SAE pledge brothers of Warren Hardy, 112 South Glenhurst, and houseguests of the Hardys for a week.

They were George Gabel of Oak Park, Ill., and Phil Barger of Toronto, former Birmingham high football player and now a U of M freshman football player. Barger is pledging Phi Delta Theta, and Hardy and Gabel, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Personally Exempt

A large percentage of the country's motorists leave difficulty in applying traffic laws and police regulations to their own personal driving. This is revealed in a country-wide survey by the Institute for Safer Living. Seventy-five per cent of the drivers questioned felt that generally, highway police are too easy on violators; while 88 per cent believed that the courts let violators off too easy. Yet 99 per cent of these drivers were frank to state that they committed violations which could land them in traffic court.
