During vacation Carol Green had a coffee which over 300 girls attended.

The sophomores and juniors had their pictures taken last week. The pictures will be used for their school records, and additional ones may be purchased by the individual.

Students at Birmingham were invited by the junior class of Mount Clemens High School to attend a dance after the Mount Clemens basketball game last Friday night.

Campaigns will begin for Student Congress elections on Monday, January 20. Primaries will be on Wednesday and final election on Friday.

Candidates are Dave Mulliner and Bob Stephenson, president; Les Harber, Ed Estes, Lynn Lopata, and Jim Trussell, vice-president; Carol Bain, Gerry Barhoff, and Linda Ellis, secretary; and Lou Bennett, Pat Henry, Di Stokes, and Joe Yarnum, trustees.

Campaign managers are Pat Brick, Ruth Ann Hoffman, Tom Rostad, Larry Norko, Bruce Bond, Harry Klumhain, Roger Kilson, Ann Lawrence, Sue Boynton, Betty Snyder, Marg Sator, Francis LeMcason, and Steve Taylor.

The elections, started with a bang when petitions for each candidate were circulated among the student body. Petitions had to be signed by a minimum of at least 100 people to be effective.

Monday campaign posters and tags will be on display.

Miss Will of the science department sent in a report on her biology classes to a national foundation on science. Her fourth hour class was photographed as they did various studies on insect life. This report was a nearly one on the biology class work in the school.

Barnum Bylines

BY THE PRESS CLUB

All the teachers at Barnum finally have their own coffee cups due to the generosity and hard work of an eighth grade home economics class. As a Christmas project, the students decorated each teacher's cup with his or her name and a message to show their profession, such as a wood chisel for a shop teacher, willy ball for a gym teacher.

Miss Arlene Nov is a student teacher at Barnum from Michigan state university. During her eleven-week stay she will be teaching Mrs. Bishop's English and literature classes and third grade radio workshop class. Miss Nov is majoring in drama and would like to become a dramatist and radio speech teacher. She lives in Detroit and likes hockey, dance and watching African statues. Arlene Nov's favorite sports are live skating, swimming and boating.

The Bloomfield Hills choir received one of the greatest honors a high school choir can get when they represented the middle of music education conference at the University of Michigan last Friday. This was the first time the choir to appear at the conference.

After the choir had sung, they were privileged to hear Mr. Peter Wilhousky, international composer, conductor, and director of music in the New York public schools. Mr. Wilhousky spoke an tone quality of the human voice.

The pop assembly last Friday had a new twist. After the junior class overhearders opened the assembly, it was turned over to individuals who led their own competitive chorusing. Leading the freshmen were Sue Wootilla and Tom Fleming. Sophomores were led by Amy Miller and Dave Arnold. Juniors followed Juice Adams and John Olson, while seniors chorted with Marsann Ouz and Jim Fleming.

The parties over the weekend included one given Friday night by Carol Smith. Saturday night two parties highlighted the evening, with Fred Hulv giving one for his few friends, and Jean Vardor Meur hostess at her sister party.

Plans for the 1958 Washington trip were given in the senior class meeting last week. The seniors will depart from Willow Run airport Tuesday the 22nd of April and return the following Saturday night. Scheduled events so far include a tour of the E.H. building, the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, a cruise on the Potomac, and a visit to Annapolis.

Derby's swimming team is presently preparing for its first meet. There will be a tri-swimming meet between Derby and the two Royal Oak schools. Mr. James Gill, Derby swimming coach, is preparing his best swimmers and divers.

In this meet among the three teams, each team will contend with the other two for first place honors.

While on the subject of swimming, the boys' swimming club have been doing one-mile (7 lengths), which takes approximately 35 to 40 minutes.

There has been talk of a dance near the middle of February. However, this has not been confirmed.

Ninth grade English class began Great Expectations by Charles Dickens this week. This is actually a ninth grade project because all classes are reading the condensation.

Kingswood Column

By KRISTINE GILMARTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Hoy they are the headmaster of Cranbrook were at home Sunday afternoon to the members of the junior classes of Kingswood and Cranbrook.

This annual get-together between the classes of the two schools was a lovely ending to the holiday season and brought a life to the spirits somewhat sobered at the prospect of the forthcoming mid-year exams.

Miss Bertha Siefert played the piano and everyone sang some music of their own from the junior's autumn festival—and enjoyed the delicious punch and cake.

Saturday evening the Kingswood "B" club (an honorary society for girls outstanding in athletics) and the Cranbrook social committee had a Regatta Acquainted Sock Hop. The dance was held in Cranbrook's little gym, which was decorated with the two schools' colors. It was a fun party and a wonderful chance to greet old friends and make new ones. The seniors especially appreciated the evening's hilarity because they had spent Saturday morning taking the scholastic aptitude tests.

Cranbrook Corridor

By LES PERRIN

Everyone is back now from all over the United States to begin a new year at Cranbrook and, of course, prepare themselves for mid-semester exams which begin next Monday.

Last Saturday Cranbrook boys and the Kingswood girls danced to the music of records at Cranbrook between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m. The sock hop included a jitterbug contest for the remedial fast dancing. For refreshments, soft drinks and popcorn were served.

This Friday Cranbrook and Kingswood will have a skating party at Cranbrook's artificial rink from 8 to 9:30. Music will be played over the P.A. system for the skaters. While the majority will skate around the sides, the center will be open for any fancy figure skating. Refreshments will be provided by the "C" Club during the skating party at the cabin.

Lespe have invited all Kingswood girls in grades nine through twelve to their information day to be held...
