Newlyweds Plan Temple Ceremony for June

Arlene Arlt and Richard J. Smart exchanged rings and vows at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at a home ceremony for members of the immediate families and close friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Arlt of Crestwood, Franklin, and the groom's parents are the Thomas Smarts of Fortland, Oreg.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the Arlt home with Richard's father, a Mormon bishop, officiating. A temple ceremony will take place in Utah in June.

ARLENE'S waltz-length gown was of heavy lace over silk fashioned with a high neckline and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her veil was shoulder length and she carried a bouquet of white peonies.

Jean Bonner of Grand Rapids was maid of honor. She wore a beige gown of peau de soie and carried a bouquet of pink peonies. Bridesmaids wore beige and blue gowns and had wrist corsages of pink roses. They were Rosalie Rue,

Carolyn Link, Judith Becker, Dorothy Padden and Barbara Hull.

Jim Padden, cousin of the bride was best man.

Mrs. Arlt and Mrs. Smart wore beige silk and green silk, respectively. Both mothers had corsages of pink carnations.

AFTER a wedding trip to Boyne Mountain the newlyweds will make their home in New Haven, Conn. Arlene will attend the University of Connecticut, and Richard is a student at Yale law school.

Before her marriage, Arlene was feted by former Birmingham high classmates at a personal shower with Rosalie Rue and Carolyn Link assisting hostesses July Becker of Birmingham.

MRS. JOSEPH C. WALKER, JR.

19th Bride to Carry Pearl Prayer Book

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Alice Holdridge MacManus became the bride of Joseph C. Walker Saturday morning at St. Hugo of the Hills, the church built by her late grandparents, the Theodore F. MacManus.

The Rev. Francis Stack officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Bloomfield Open Hunt club. After a wedding trip to New York they will make their home in Lansing.

Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. MacManus, Jr., of "Stoneycroft," Bloomfield Hills and her husband's parents are the Joseph C. Walkers of Pontiac.

THE BRIDE and all her attendants wore white peau de soie with accents of holiday red. An insert of lace trimmed the bodice of the bridal gown and formed a Sabrina neckline. The dress was made with long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt, appliqued with lace, which fell into a short train.

A tiny close fitting cap of matching lace held her triangular illusion veil and she carried a pearl prayer book, becoming the nineteenth bride to do so. The prayer book was loaned to Alice by her aunt, Mrs. John A. Edwood, who used it 111

Christmas Village Opens on Porch Of Farmer Home

Today marks the opening to the public of "Farmer's Christmas Village," the elaborate Christmas display set up yearly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farmer, 1575 Bannville, Birmingham.

Mrs. Farmer said visitors would be welcomed between 1 and 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. daily, through February. She asked that visiting groups such as scout troops send her a card stating their telephone number. She will then contact them and make an appointment.

The miniature Christmas village which fills the Farmers' front porch, has been in existence 23 years ago. Each year Mrs. Farmer added to it, until now the village is occupied by over 800 tiny dolls. It takes her ten days to set it up, plus three days of her husband's time in wiring lights and erecting the platform.

New this year is a myriad of tiny Christmas star lights which blink in the sky above the village.
