THE SEVEN LIVELY ARTS with John Crosby as host, Sun, 5:00, channel 2...

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY has The Face of Crime, a special series covering crime, its causes and potential cures...

LEND AN EAR

Thanks to Will Shakespeare!

The current production of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" at the Riviera for another 10 days is in all ways a routing good show!

Just why this move was necessary, I haven't quite figured out. It did alleviate the usually heavy-handed mood of Shakespeare...

ALFRED DRAKE, as an ill man, infusing any part of the play with warmth and vitality. This play is no exception. She is completely at home in her part and gives it a lulling insouciance...

Sewer Contract Signing Delayed

Contract for construction of two sewers in Quanton Lakes estates area will not be signed until after the end of the week...

Business Gets Bid To Zone Law Meet
Next scheduled hearing on Birmingham's proposed new zoning law is slated for next Thursday at 2 p.m. in the city commission room.

PAULETTE GOGGARD, who looked lovely, but added very little else to the play, no doubt owes her position in the billing to her Hollywood reputation. Apparently acting before the camera and acting before the footlights requires entirely different abilities and techniques.

WALTZ OF THE TORATOIDS
The other play currently in town at the Shubert, "Waltz of the Toratoids," is a completely different kettle of fish. This piece, written by Jean Anouilh, who also wrote "Antigone," is a worldly-wise cynical comedy which always decide whether it is a tragedy or a comedy of a comic tragedy.
