owner used to take each day, to and from work. Friendly people for the crime, have come to respect and love it. What an example for the human family!

U.S. Senator McClellan (D., Arkansas) is chairman of the Senate labor racket committee. So far, that committee has done a good job in exposing thieves and racketeers in a few unions, chiefly the Teamsters. He is being urged to make equal efforts to investigate the UAW, especially its political activities and its handling of the Kohler strike. Politically, Senator McClellan probably could win votes for his party by going down on the UAW. How he does perform one time will tell. It is to be hoped that the McClellan conscience will not tolerate a double standard of morals—for only by being non-partisan in such investigations, Congress and the country learn the truth. Further, only upon the truth can the foundations of democracy rest securely, any where, any time.

Such a contemporary wit: No matter how flat your conversation may be, most women always like to hear it flatter. (And, of course, so do most men.)

The second edition of the 5th U.S. Congress is back in session, confronted with a variety of domestic and foreign problems greater than ever gave them concern. Since 1908 also in an election year, you may rest assured that the overall confusion will be compounded by the mathematics of partisanship."

This comprehensive rehabilitation program of the sister Kenny Foundation is supported by the United Foundation and the Michigan United Fund.

Surprise Element with Awards

A surprise element entered into the presentation last week of Scouting's coveted Silver Beaver awards to W. Calvin Patterson, (left) 6145 E. Surrey, Birmingham, and C. Allen Harlan, 3525 N. Adams. The surprise was the presence of Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Harlan, who witnessed their husbands' awards for "distinguished service to youth". The two women remained, incognito, in the outer lobby, while a preceding business session was in progress. Since names are kept secret until the actual citation is read and the leader's name revealed, neither recipient was aware of the honor to be bestowed. The presentation ceremony was part of the Detroit area Scout council's annual meeting held in Detroit, when election of officers was held. Patterson, a vice president of Michigan Bell, was re-elected to a second term as Scout council president. Harlan, president of Harlan Electric and a Scout board member for many years, was again re-elected to board membership.

Suspend Order

Revolving License

Of B'ham Cab Firm

Suspending the order revoking the AAA Cab company's license to operate in the city, the Birmingham city commission Monday night voted a hearing on the matter for next Monday.

Meanwhile, the company will be permitted to operate five of its six cabs. A legal representative told commissioners Monday night that the firm was negotiating sale of its assets.

The city taxicab board ordered revocation of the company's license after it failed to put all six of its cabs in what Birmingham has long considered a safe operating condition.

Youth Sentenced

In Car Theft

For stealing a car last Dec. 21 from the Harold Turner car lot in Birmingham, David Chatfield, 19, of Clarkston, was sentenced to one to five years in Jackson prison Monday by Judge Frank L. Doty. Brought before Judge Doty in Oakland county circuit court, the youth had pleaded guilty earlier to charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

B'ham Rejects Low Gets CMC Degree Bid on Quarton Sewer Project

Robert B. Bennett of Birmingham received a bachelor of science degree at Central Michigan college's mid-year commencement Sunday.

Birmingham commissioners received bids from Vito Trucking and excavating company of Hazel Park, then accepted City Engineer Charles Serenbety's recommendation to award the Pine and Ray-William Hutchinson comment, name Quarton lake esterase relief sewer construction contract to a higher bidder.

City Manager I. R. Gare told the commission before their action $129,279.55, which is $270 higher Monday night that Serenbety's bid. Serenbety's bid, which is a completion date of April 15 has been set. The contract contains no penalty clause.

The contract goes to Greenfield construction company at a cost of $129,279.55, which is $270 higher Monday night that Serenbety's bid. Serenbety's bid, which is a completion date of April 15 has been set. The contract contains no penalty clause.

Southfield Parking

Parking on Southfield road in Birmingham may still be permitted, says City Commissioner Florence Willett, disclosed last week that the Oakland county road commission was advised before last summer's paving began of the city's intent to allow parking on the street. The commission Monday night tabled last week's resolution to prohibit parking, until further study could be made.

Speed Limit Goes To 30 on Cranbrook

Since the Oakland county commission has raised the speed limit on Cranbrook road between 14 Mile road and Maple to 30 miles per hour, Birmingham city commissioners Monday night voted to change the limit on the city's roads from 25 to 30 miles per hour.

Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said 30 miles per hour is more realistic, particularly since no parking is permitted on either side of the street.

'Real Images' on Display

Kingswood School Cranbrook opens its first exhibition of the year in the art galleries with a showing of paintings and watercolors by the head of the art department at Cranbrook school, Peter Kerr. The showing begins Sunday afternoon, and will be on view Monday through Friday the rest of the month. His work, which is represented in several well-known collections, Kerr says is "an attempt to invent a real image capable of being understood as a universal." The Kingswood galleries are located in the north wing of Kingswood school, just off Cranbrook road in Bloomfield Hills.
